Farmington Man Named Presbytery Moderator

Ministers and elders of the Potosi Presbytery elected the Rev. Roland Sims of Farmington moderator for a six-months term and decided to convene next time either in Cape Girardeau or in Brazeau in Perry county before the end of a regular two-day fall meeting here Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Rev. C. V. Farrell of Malden, the retiring moderator, preached at the opening session Tuesday night on "Christ in His Church First," the theme of the jubilee year of the southern Presbyterian church. At Wednesday's session, delegates accepted a revised church book of rules. Mr. Sims has been working on since the spring meeting and heard a request of Don Walters of Cape Girardeau that he be received as a candidate for the ministry.

Mr. Walters, a graduate of the Cape Girardeau teachers' college, is now teaching school in Southeast Missouri. He intends to enroll next year at the Louisville, Ky., Presbyterian seminary and to train for entrance in the foreign mission field. He hopes to be sent to Africa.

Because rules of the Presbytery require that candidates for the ministry apply two months before a decision is made on their applications, Mr. Walters' request cannot be considered until the spring meeting. Ministers and elders here could give him only a rising vote of confidence and affection.

Before adjournment, the Rev. W. W. Gray and Elder T. W. Root of Caruthersville were chosen commissioners to the general assembly at Montreat, N. C., next May, and Mr. Sims and an elder of Farmington, not named, were elected alternates.

These persons attended the Presbytery meeting in Sikeston:

Ministers—M. L. Daugherty of Potosi, F. P. DeBolt of Perryville, Dorsey D. Ellis of Sikeston, C. V. Farrell of Malden, W. J. Gammon of Jackson, R. E. Carroll of Kennett, W. W. Gray and Elmer Peal of Caruthersville, C. H. Morton of Cape Girardeau, James W. McNutt of Caledonia, B. R. Schwager and John E. Travis of New Madrid, and Roland Sims of Farmington.

Elders—A. M. Riehl of Potosi, A. F. Meeks of Sikeston, L. Howlett of Charleston, J. R. Talley of Jackson, O. S. Harrison of Kennett, V. C. Meyers of Cape Girardeau, Fred Cole of Caledonia, J. M. Jamison of Irondale, and F. M. Karsch of Farmington.

RUST COTTON PICKER TO BE DEMONSTRATED HERE

The recently perfected Rust cotton picker will be demonstrated on Grover Baker's farm at the north edge of town the last of this week.

In a letter to Mr. Baker, Erif Orf, field adviser for the Missouri Self-Help Cooperative Association said, "It is our desire to find out what this machine will do on Missouri soil and under Missouri working conditions. It is possible that the final results may be of benefit not only to the co-operators but to all growers of Southeast Missouri."

Mr. Orf wrote he had arranged with the Rust brothers to have the machine here "not later than the end of this week." He said he would notify Mr. Baker when he learned the date and time of the demonstration.

TWO CAUGHT STEALING IN WAGGENER'S STORE

Billy Edwards and Olin Hitchcock learned this week it isn't wise to steal.

Night Marshall Gid Daniels caught them leaving Lynn Waggener's store Tuesday night with gum, candy, and $2 in cash, and took them to police court for questioning. There he learned that ten days ago they had entered the store through a window, had taken what they wanted, and then had found a pass key in the inside lock and left.

The boys admitted going into the store seven nights and gathering together small quantities of candy, gum, and cash amounting to about $10. They had the key when they were arrested.

Mr. Waggener turned the two over to their parents. They will pick cotton to make restitution.

Two Cars Damaged by Collision Down Town

Two automobiles were slightly damaged early Wednesday morning when George Steele's hydraulic brakes failed to stop his car at the Center street-North New Madrid intersection.

Mr. Steele's westbound car collided with one being driven south on New Madrid by Clyde Couch. W. F. Browning, who was crossing the street at the time, suffered a sprained back when he fell as he ran to get out of the car's path.

Mr. Steele's son, John, told him after using the car Tuesday night that the starter wasn't working properly, and Mr. Steele started to drive to Boyer's to have it repaired. He didn't know until he tried to observe the stop sign at New Madrid that neither the foot nor the emergency brakes worked. Both he and Mr. Couch swerved their machines toward the southeast corner of the intersection, but they could not avoid a collision. Neither man had been in an accident before.

Mr. Browning was treated by Dr. Howard A. Dunaway and then taken home in the Ellis ambulance.

MRS. C. H. SHELL'S FATHER SUCCUMBS AT MARIANNA

Guy Morton, the father of Mrs. C. H. Shell of Sikeston, died at his home in Marianna, Ark., Sunday night after a prolonged illness. He was 51 years old.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning, and burial was in a Marianna cemetery. C. H. Shell, who went to Marianna Sunday, returned home late Tuesday. His wife will remain in Marianna until the end of this week.

Mr. Morton had lived in Marianna twenty years and was employed by the Miller Lumber Company. Besides his daughter, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minerva Morton; a son, James Morton of Marianna; two sisters, Miss Lula Morton of St. Louis and Mrs. C. M. McWilliams of Jackson; and a brother, Garnett Morton of St. Louis.

WPA WORKERS TO BE RECLASSIFIED BY NRS

All persons certified for work on the WPA will be interviewed again soon for reclassification in the national re-employment service files, it was announced yesterday.

E. R. Ryan, the Scott county NRS interviewer, said that all persons certified, whether they are now working for the WPA or are waiting to be assigned to projects, will be reinterviewed in order to date record of the abilities of laborers. Mr. Ryan will interview WPA workers at their jobs. Persons waiting for assignments to work must go to the NRS office in Benton.

Ilmo Big Bucks Again Beat Local All-Stars

By Leo Smith

The Ilmo Big Bucks defeated the Sikeston club at Ilmo Sunday by a score of 4 to 1 for their second win over the locals.

Hall, a lanky southpaw, was on the mound for the Bucks, pitching a six-hit game and striking out eleven batters.

Sikeston had a new hurler, "Dago" Love of Morehouse, on the firing line and he did a good job of pitching, allowing only seven hits and striking out five batters, but his teammates couldn't hit for him.

Dace was the leading hitter for Sikeston, getting two hits out of four trips while Stone and Templeton were the leading hitters for the Bucks, each getting two hits out of four trips to the plate.

The Big Bucks play their third game here Sunday.

BIG BUCKS HERE SUNDAY

The Ilmo Big Bucks will play the Sikeston All-Stars here Sunday afternoon, Clay Mitchell announced yesterday. The Big Bucks have defeated Sikeston's team twice, most recently by a score of 4 to 1 at Ilmo last Sunday.

Football Season To Open Here Sept. 25

The Sikeston high school football season will open September 25 when Matthews comes here for a night game.

W. E. Mahew and Tharon Stallings have been busy for a month giving Bulldogs intensive training to prepare them for difficult foes, and since the team will have twelve lettermen and six men who received minor letters last year, fans are hopeful of a successful season.

The Bulldogs will play Cape Central here October 2 and then will rest the following week end to be ready for a third game in Sikeston with Jackson on October 16. The rest of the schedule follows: October 23, at Chaffee; October 30, at Farmington; November 6, Dexter, here; November 13, Kennett, here; Thanksgiving, at Charleston. All this season's games except the one at Charleston will be played at night.

Lettermen who will be in the lineup are Moore Greer and Charles Rushing, the co-captains; Jesse Cotton, G. B. Greer, and Ross Childress, seniors; and Charles Beal, Gene Grant, Woodrow Gwaltney, John Raymond Shuppert, Paul David Allen, Sherman Grant, and Charles Tanner, juniors. Stanley Woods, a senior; Paul Bowman, Edward Matthews, Bob Dover, and Bob Matthews, juniors; and Ralph Baker, a sophomore, are minor lettermen who will also play this year.

SIKESTON MAN GETS YEAR FOR MANN ACT VIOLATION

Henry Helton, 23 who gave his home address as Sikeston, was sentenced to a year and a day in the reformatory when he pled guilty in the East St. Louis federal court Monday to interstate transportation of women for immoral purposes in violation of the Mann act.

Helton was arrested in Cairo August 15 and charged with living with Dorothy Gullett, 21, in Sikeston, Paducah, and Cairo, although they were not married. The complaint to which he pled guilty accused him only of taking a girl from Sikeston to Cairo. Frank Helton, 41, an uncle of Henry arrested in Cairo the same day with Gaynelle Chamberlain, 24, has not been heard in court. Frank is believed to have served prison terms for violating the white slave act and for automobile theft.

EAST PRAIRIE MAN FINED $50 FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Judge Joseph W. Myers fined Lee Cruse of East Prairie $50 Thursday afternoon when Cruse pled guilty in justice court to a charge of reckless driving.

Cruse was arrested the night of September 3 by Trooper V. C. Boisabain and John Tandy after his car and one driven by Wid Robbins of Piggott, Ark., had collided on Highway 61 nine miles north of here. Both machines were damaged but no one was hurt.

Cruse was at first booked for driving a car while he was intoxicated, but at his hearing Thursday, Prosecuting Attorney W. P. Wilkerson reduced the charge to a misdemeanor. Cruse has agreed to pay for repairs to Robbins' automobile.

A case against Willard Westmoreland, accused of felonious assault, was dismissed. Court costs were assessed against Edna Davis, the prosecuting witness.

Other cases were continued.

H. S. TEACHERS HONOR MEMBERS OF FACULTY

Teachers in the high school gave a tea and informal reception Thursday afternoon in the Home Economic Room, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Duncan who were married in the early summer, and to Supt. and Mrs. Roy V. Ellis in honor of their 30th wedding anniversary. Lovely gifts were presented to the honorees.

Scott Cotton Crop Is 46 pct. of Normal

Columbia, Mo., Sept. 16.—August heat and drought were the main factors which resulted in one of the most destructive seasons for Missouri cotton in the records. Very little or no rain fell during August along with high temperatures and a blazing sun which resulted in wholesale dropping of squares and small bolls. Young and old bolls have opened too fast reducing the yield, as shown from reports to E. A. Logan, statistician, United States bureau of agricultural economics. Picking started generally around August 24 three days earlier than in 1934.

Ginning were some 13,400 bales on September 1 or more than any recent year. Abandonment is small and only 0.6 per cent of the July acreage as most of the standing crop will be picked over. The harvest acreage is 349,000 with a condition of 56 per cent normal. A yield of 280 pounds of lint is indicated compared with 280 last year and 256 for a ten-year average. Estimated production is 204,000 bales against 177,000 in 1935. Missouri has little or no weevil damage but has a small loss from boll worms and very little leaf form infestation up to the last week of August.

The national crop is 11,121,000 bales against 10,638,000 for 1935. Average yield is 179.2 pounds per acre against 186.3 last year and 169.9, the ten-year average, poor in Oklahoma and under average in Arkansas, Texas and Virginia but above average in all other states. Ginnings to September one were 1,373,868 bales compared with 1,135,090 for 1935 and 1,402,835 for 1934. The carry-over of American cotton is 7,100,000 bales when added to the September estimate totals 18,221,000 against an average of 20,437,000 bales for the season, 1923-1933.

County conditions are: Ozark 49%, Ripley 50%, Butler 41%, Dunklin 50%, Mississippi 68%, New Madrid 65%, Pemiscot 60%, Scott 56%, and Stoddard 54%.

SCOTT COUNTY WILL BUY SIX NEW G. M. C. TRACTORS

Drivers are expected to arrive here today (Friday) with six new G. M. C. tractors bought by the Scott County Milling Company and accepted by them Tuesday at the factory in Pontiac, Mich.

Luther Hicks, in charge of the party, is accompanied by Gene Bowman and W. C. McManus. Each of the men is driving a tractor which hauls another one. The men would have arrived here earlier in the week if they had not been arrested in an Ohio town Tuesday on a minor trucking law violation and been forced to remain there most of the day.

COUNTY REPUBLICAN HEADQUARTERS HERE

Scott county Republican headquarters will be established this week in a downstairs room of the Young building on Center street.

George W. Kirk, chairman of the county Republican central committee, said he hoped to have the office opened by Saturday. A stenographer will be hired to interview persons visiting the headquarters and to distribute literature kept there.

Republicans could find no suitable room for rent in Benton.

See "Icky" Arthur for Bank Nite Insurance.

M. E. District Missionary Meet To Be Held Here

A semi-annual meeting of Methodist church missionary societies of the Cape Girardeau district will be held here Monday and Tuesday, September 28 and 29.

The session will open Monday night with a young people's conference and banquet in the Methodist church. Mrs. A. H. Dewey of St. Louis, chairman of the young people's conference, will speak in the auditorium after dinner, and members of the Benton society will be hostesses to young women of the district.

Mrs. Jephtha Riggs of Cape

Girardeau, district secretary, will preside at an all-day meeting the following day. Mrs. J. N. Ross will lead the devotional, and women prominent in missionary society work will speak. Lunch will be served at the church at noon.

Conference officers who are expected to attend include Mrs. A. R. Walker, Mrs. H. F. Clinger, Mrs. Carl Burrus, and Mrs. A. H. Dewey, all of St. Louis. Mrs. William O'Toole of St. Louis and Miss Kathryn Johnson of Flat River, returned missionaries, are scheduled to speak before the conference is adjourned.

TO ELECT OFFICERS FOR WILD LIFE ASSOCIATION

Permanent officers of the Southeast Missouri Wild Life Protective Association will be elected at a meeting of the organization in the Marshall hotel at 7:30 Monday night, September 28. L. H. Shivel, the temporary chairman, will preside.

The association's announced purpose is "to promote proper sportsmanship in fishing and hunting, to preserve and to protect our supply of fish and game, and to restore exhausted fishing places and natural haunts with new fish and game."

All persons interested in encouraging the organization are invited to join it. Annual dues will be $2.50.

MATTHEWS FARMER DIES OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

John Jefferson Asa, a retired farmer, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Hardin, near Matthews Tuesday of chronic Bright's disease. He had been in ill health four years.

Funeral services were held in the Matthews Christian church at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. C. F. Transue, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene here, preached. Burial was in the Matthews cemetery.

Mr. Asa was born in Union county, Illinois, on June 4, 1863, and had lived in New Madrid county forty years. Besides his daughter, he is survived by a brother, J. R. Asa of Canolou; and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Allie Gillem of Dorena. Albritton service.

Miss Esther Brumfield Marries Bobby Roberts

A marriage license was issued in Cairo to Miss Esther Brumfield, 23, of Sikeston, and Oscar L. Diefenbach, 29, of St. Louis, the Tuesday edition of the Cairo Evening Citizen said. Relatives here said they knew nothing of the marriage.

Miss Brumfield was granted a divorce from A. Jack Matthews and a change of name in circuit court September 8 and the next day left here, saying she would visit her sister, Mrs. Ozetta Taylor, in Baltimore, Md.

Diefenbach, better known here as Bobby Roberts, former master of ceremonies at The Gables, was once the husband of Mrs. Grace Thomasson of St. Louis, who gained notoriety for her part in the Nellie Muech baby conspiracy. He left Sikeston August 12 but returned here the week before. Miss Brumfield was granted a divorce. Reports said he went away to fulfill an engagement as master of ceremonies at an Illinois county fair. Both were reported to have driven to Baltimore on their honeymoon.

NEW HARMONY BAPTISTS TO HAVE REVIVAL SONG

The General Baptist church at New Harmony, better known as Rootwad, four miles west of Sikeston, will begin a series of revival services on October 10, with Rev. Evans and Lonnie Masterson in charge. The public is cordially invited to attend.

MORLEY MAN HEADS SCHOOL MASTERS

B. B. Thompson, superintendent of schools at Morley, was elected president of the Scott-Mississippi county school masters' club at a meeting in Benton Monday night. Members also chose Fred Lewallen of Chaffee, vice-president; and C. E. Brewer of Farnfield, secretary.

Demo. Headquarters at Benton

Emil Steck of Farnfield has charge of Scott county Democratic headquarters opened in the O. L. Spencer building in Benton. Alfred Halter of Benton is serving as secretary.

Religious Activities

PRESBYTERIAN REVIVAL TO START SUNDAY NIGHT

A revival meeting will start at the Presbyterian church Sunday. The Rev. Dr. T. S. Smylie, of St. Louis, who is to be the preacher, will be here to preach Sunday evening. Services evening will begin at 8:00 o'clock and thereafter each evening at 7:30. At 7 o'clock each evening a special children's service will be held, led by Mrs. D. D. Ellis and Mrs. R. A. Moore. All children are urged to attend.

Dr. Smylie is the popular young pastor of the large Central Presbyterian church in St. Louis. He is the author of "The Pocket Pulpit", evangelistic sermons published in pamphlets that may be carried in the pocket. He is a man of scholarship, personality, and consecration, abounds with evangelistic zeal, and is an able preacher.

The Presbyterian church extends a most hearty welcome to its friends in Sikeston and the surrounding community to attend this series of meetings.

Subject of the sermon to be delivered at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning by the pastor.

"What Is The Greatest Hindrance To The Church?" Just what is it? Is it Modernism? Is it Atheism? Is it immorality? Everybody knows that the church is not thriving like she ought to. What is the matter? What do you think is keeping her from growing? Come Sunday morning to hear the pastor discuss this vital matter. Remember the time is 9 o'clock.

FIDELIS CLASS OFFICERS ELECTED MONDAY NIGHT

The Fidelis Class of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Gene Kindred on Matthews Avenue Monday evening, September 14, with 19 members present. At this time the following officers for the coming year were elected:

President—Mrs. Otis Champion. First vice-president—Mrs. Ralph Ansell. Second vice-president—Mrs. Melfred Taylor. Third vice-president—Mrs. Beryl Tidwell. Fourth vice-president—Mrs. M. S. Tomerlin. Secretary—Mrs. Jack Watson.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Byrd at Matthews, Mo., which time a bundle sale will be held.

CONCORDIA LUTHERAN CHURCH

Divine Service—10:30 a. m. Sunday School—9:45 a. m. On the first, third, and fifth Sundays of each month.

Martin L. Cook, pastor.

The Gospel services which have been held during the past five weeks with Rev. Cook in charge, will come to a close tonight (Thursday), the topic for the final message being "Are We All Going to the Same Place?" We take this opportunity to thank all individuals as well as the business houses who have helped make this series of services a success.

Rev. Cook will conduct a series of services in Lafa, Ark., next week.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday school, 9:15 o'clock. Morning worship—11 o'clock. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Venture of Faith." Evening worship—7 o'clock. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Religion of Friendship." Epworth League—6:30 o'clock. E. H. Orear, pastor.

GLEANERS TO HAVE RUMMAGE SALE SAT.

The Gleaners Class of the Methodist church will have a rummage sale Saturday, September 19, in the Young building next door to Missouri Utilities office.

Seventh Lecture on Fulfillment of Prophecy

Elder John B. Huffman has delivered nine consecutive sermons in the little park in front of Sterling's store, Sikeston, Mo., and six of these messages have been devoted to "Signs of the Times, or Fulfillment of Bible Prophecy."

He will deliver the seventh lecture on the following subject at the same place in Sikeston, commencing between 1:30 and 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 19. These are interesting talks, and everybody should be interested in any one vividly portraying the fulfillment of prophecy, as it is rapidly being enacted in the world today.

Surely, the wars, the distress, the commotion, the internal uprisings, the conflict among nations for rivalry, the terrible economic and social conditions, the unrest and uneasiness prevailing not only in Europe, but all over this mundane sphere is enough to arouse an infidel and atheist, agnostic, or Deist to realization of fulfillment of the latter day signs preceding the coming of Jesus Christ (not the end of the world). People of all denominations and unbelievers, non-Christians invited to hear this lecture Saturday afternoon, commencing between 1:30 and 2 o'clock, Sept. 19.

Rummage sale—Saturday, September 19—Parish Hall—Catholic Ladies sponsors.

In asking about a person who had been in bad health for the past year, the answer was: "She is still enjoying poor health." Another innocent bystander said if her husband had given her a thrashing months ago, and told her to get up and shake a leg, she would have been well months ago, and so goes the world.

MAD DOG BITES FORTY OTHERS, NIPS 2 PEOPLE

Mayor J. J. Blughart of Fomfelt and Dr. G. T. Dorris, mayor of Illmo, ordered all dogs tied or penned until October 1 after reports said a mad dog had bitten forty others and nipped at two persons before escaping policemen's fire and disappearing.

Miss Louise Stevens, an Illmo Telephone operator, said the mad dog attacked her on the ankle but did not break the skin, and Raymond Ross reported he barely escaped being bitten by it.

The dog's owner, Leo Steger of Illmo, penned it up for observation several days ago when it became ill, but it broke out and began biting other dogs. Several shots failed to stop it.

Washington Comment

About 115,000 thousands visitors entered Washington on Labor Day, and more than 100,000 residents of the capital city left to find pleasure elsewhere a circumstance tending to prove the truth of the old saying that one man's meat is another man's poison. Having fun on Labor Day cost 304 lives throughout the country. Washington had no fatality to report. Those who left town seem to have had the worst of it, in that they passed from an area of comparative safety into a war zone where reckless driving, rocking the boat and the like were in order. Washington is a fairly secure place saving for congressmen, who have to run the chance of being defeated at the polls.

Doctor Hanfstaengl has been relieved of office in a central European country. Although the pronunciation of his name may have given no trouble in his native land, it seems to English speaking persons that something drastic should be done with a man whose name has to be coughed.

John L. Lewis, president of the United States Mine Workers, says that industry in this country could easily give unskilled labor a minimum wage of $2500 per year, a consumption devoutly to be wished. The problem, however, would not be solved by the payment specified. Until a way of regulating the cost of living is discovered, twenty-five hundred dollars next year or the year after may be worth no more than fifteen hundred dollars today. The question of supply and demand must be taken into consideration also, and the supply of unskilled labor is large. Anyone who compares what his smaller pay of a few years ago could accomplish, with the results achieved by larger pay that he may happen to be receiving today, will reach the conclusion that material welfare is a complex thing, depending upon many factors other than the contents of the pay envelope.

The Treasury says that it is likely that Germany will not pay a fourteen million dollar debt installment due the latter part of September. This is so sudden. Who could have foreseen it? Thus another fondly cherished hope is dashed to the ground.

Pennsylvania is planning to clean up her rivers, many of which have become little else than sluices for mill filth. Rivers have a hard time when civilization comes in. The River Shannon in Ireland, for instance, used to have nothing more taxing to do than to furnish a theme for poems.

Now it has the job of furnishing electricity to illuminate the villages along its banks, according to a delegate attending the Power Conference in Washington. Perhaps the changed conditions are not to be regretted. Good poetry is welcome, but the average housewife is willing to swap some poetry in exchange for an opportunity to get rid of having to clean and fill oil lamps.

Mexico is going to control the chicle industry. Chicle is one of the chief ingredients of chewing gum. If the rest of the world does not approve of what Mexico has in mind, the next step is to chew the rag.

The War Mothers organization plans to combat the Reds. Attention is directed not to the Red peril, but to the sturdy and courageous spirit of American women, which prompted them to unite upon the basis of a common ground of anxiety for the welfare of soldier sons, and sorrow arising from the havoc of war. It is noteworthy, further, that the War Mothers are "planning", looking toward the future in the light of the lessons of the past. The War Mothers might easily be excused, had they elected to remain cloistered with their grief. It was their choice, rather, to carry on in useful exertion. Whether or not their efforts to mold current affairs bear fruit is of secondary consequence. The important point is that they have set a high example, by which their descendants may be encouraged to rise above the sackcloth and ashes of many a torturing day.

WHY A MEDICINE FOR ONE IS ANOTHER'S POISON

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 15.—Science finally has discovered why one man's medicine may be another man's poison.

Solution of this problem was reported by Dr. Karl Landsteiner of Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, 1930 Nobel prize winner, to the Harvard tercentenary conference of arts and sciences.

A sort of internal hay fever is at the root of the matter, Dr. Landsteiner said. Just as goldenrod is a pretty flower to some but a nuisance to the hay fever sufferer, so some medicines beneficial to many are irritants to a few, he explained.

Allergic reaction is what science calls the supersensitive, hay fever reaction of certain individuals to hay, goldenrod, ragweed, feathers, fur and the like. The recent discovery of drug allergy resulted from a reaction called anaphylaxis encountered during investigation of the subject of immunity.

When an animal is treated with a foreign protein it develops specific substances called "antibodies" which react chemically with the original protein if introduced into the animal again and thus produces immunity. Sometimes the animal, instead of being immunized, is killed. This adverse result is called anaphylaxis.

Study of this effect in perfecting serums and antitoxins resulted in the discovery that some persons have definite adverse idiosyncrasies toward certain drugs used in medicines.

Phillips 66 POLY GAS

WHY, I REMEMBER WHEN PHILLIPS HAD ONLY TWO STATIONS!

YES--THAT WAS ONLY EIGHT YEARS AGO. NOW THERE ARE 13,800 PHILLIPS STATIONS! IT SURE TAKES A GREAT GASOLINE TO GROW LIKE THAT!

LISTEN to a success story: But remember that you haven't heard the whole story until you have listened to your motor after filling the tank with Phillips 66 Poly Gas!

The times have been tough. And so has the competition. Yet, every year right through the Depression, sales of Phillips 66 kept climbing to new record-breaking levels.

Obviously when every man and woman had economy uppermost in mind, only a product giving exceptional value could have earned such tremendous gains in popular approval.

Today, thanks to wise and thrifty motorists, Phillips is one of the largest Independents in the entire oil industry. And as an Independent, Phillips has rolled up a remarkable record of pioneering.

Phillips was first to match gasoline to weather. First to offer high test gasoline at the price of ordinary motor fuel. First to offer at all its stations the extra-powered gasoline resulting from the patented POLY process.

From the very beginning, we have honestly and confidently promised that you would feel that difference with your first trial tankful. Many new thousands of drivers must be doing so every day—must be noting the added power, pep, pick-up, and mileage—because Phillips sales figures are still headed sharply upwards.

Why not give your motor a chance to surprise you! Try a tankful of the new Phillips 66 Poly Gas. It's a sensational motor fuel. And a sensational value, too, since it does not cost a penny more than ordinary gasoline.

Phillips 66 Motor Oil—guaranteed to the limit as "our very finest quality." 80¢ a quart in cans. In bulk, 26¢ a quart.

NEW MADRID COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

By Milus R. Davis

At the County Teachers' Meet last Friday, a crowded house welcomed the addresses of Blanche Griffith, H. B. Masterson, Marcus L. Grant, and teacher of the Philippine Islands, who displayed an interesting collection including an axe used by the head-hunters of the islands to behead their victims. John A. Wieland, State Superintendent of Illinois, closed the program with an address giving us some good ideas. Singing was led by W. L. Giddens of Canolau and Marguerite Miller of Liblourn.

The first payment of state aid was made on September 7 and distributed as follows:

| Gideon          | 9499.32  |

The total amount paid to rural districts is $10,894.06 and to town districts, $66,989.08. Transportation allowed for the rural districts, and included in the above table, is as follows: Fairview, $92.94; York, $21.03; Bowman, $34.60; Wilburn, $9.84; Union Grove, $108.54. The extra money for Union Grove pays transportation and tuition of colored pupils to Champion.

33.9% of state aid was paid this time as compared to 25 1/2% last fall, or an increase of over 8%. If the payment next March is increased the same, the total yearly payment would be 78% but this may be hoping for too much. At least, we can feel sure of 70%. This payment was for revenue collected over a period of four months—March 1 to July 1. The payment next spring will turn over money collected for a period of eight months—July 1 to March 1.

Dema Parker, teacher of York upper grades, resigned and John Sells of Matthews was elected to fill the vacancy. Miss Parker plans to finish her college work preparatory to teaching in high school.

E. Wayne Shannon of Mountain Grove was lately elected at Morehouse to succeed J. C. Slover who goes to Estherville, Iowa. Mr. Shannon has taught the past two years at Boonville. Mrs. C. W. Stevenson, formerly of Liblourn but who lives at Cape Girardeau now, has been employed lately as teacher of the Croson School in the Morehouse District. Louis A. Meyer is superintendent for the second term and other members of the Morehouse faculty are: Willard Bagwell, Loudean Davis, Margaret Gallup, Alma Bremerman, W. F. Blaylock, Joe Lowe, Margaret Cain, Elizabeth Hoehn, Evelyn Moore, Nellie Reynolds, Naidene Duckett, Martha Schuchart. School opened September 7.

The Board of Control of the New Madrid County High School Association (Athletic and Literary) met last Friday and elected Lynn M. Twitty of Kewanee as President to succeed J. Hugh May, L. L. Schuette of New Madrid as Vice-President to succeed Oren S. Liley, and Ralph McCullough of New Madrid was re-elected as Secretary.

The Schoolmasters' Club will hold their first meeting of the season at Portageville on the evening of October 5. As usual, they will feast on chicken and rehearse the jokes of the previous year.

The delegates to the State Teachers' Association at Kansas City on November 11-14 will be J. H. O'Connor, L. G. Wilson, Ralph McCullough, L. B. Hoy, Milus R. Davis, D. S. Revelle, Lynn M. Twitty, and Louis A. Meyer. The Cape Girardeau meeting will come October 22-23 and the delegates selected include the first four names above and J. W. Hucklestep, H. W. Lueddecke, and Neil C. Aslin.

A FATHER AT 101

London, Sept. 15.—After living 103 years in the obscurity of a Norfolkshire village, George Skeet soared into worldwide fame today as the father of a two-year-old daughter and a five-year-old son. The children have two half-brothers, one 69 and the other 60. Skeet, a residence of Burnham Market, was married for sixty-three years to his first wife. Twelve years ago he married a 17-year-old girl, but it was not until five years ago that their first child was born. Then, at the age of 101, he became a father two years ago.

MONEY CHANGER USED BY STILL ATTENDANT TO SPEED SALES AT STILL

The first negro alleged bootlegger arrested since federal agents from Poplar Bluff started their "drying up" campaign in South-east Missouri 13 months ago was taken in a raid on a still seven miles east of Hornersville early Sunday morning.

The negro, Ben Hawthorn, 65, and John Seifert, 56, were taken into custody and readily admit officers say, their part in the operation of a 150-gallon still, they said belonged to Fred Powers. Powers is out on bond at the present time on a previous bootlegging charge. Federal agents said all three men will be charged with conspiracy. Powers was not at the still at the time of the raid and has not been taken into custody on the conspiracy charge.

Eight hundred and fifty gallons of mash in 17 barrels was confiscated at the still and destroyed. "Uncle Ben," as he is called, and who is the father of 13 children, said he served as "delivery boy" for the moonshiners. He hauled sugar to the still and delivered the finished product in a wagon to the consumers. He said he received one-half gallon of whisky for every load he delivered.

A small shed situated near the still was used as the "retail outlet" for the business. Seifert was arrested at the shed. Agents said he wore a money changer similar to the type worn by street car conductors on his belt. "Business was so good he needed to make change fast," agents said.

Hawthorn told officers that they sold about 175 gallons of whisky a week and received $2 for each gallon.

Seifert and Hawthorn were arraigned before United States Commissioner Arno Ponder Sunday and pleaded guilty. They are held in the Butler county jail for failure to make bonds of $1,500 each. Liquor control operators have arrested eight alleged bootleggers and captured five stills in the last five days. The still taken Sunday by agents from Poplar Bluff was the 114th confiscated in the last 13 months.—Poplar Bluff Daily American Republican.

AAA MEETINGS ON PROGRAM FOR 1937

Washington, Sept. 15.—The AAA announced a series of "community meetings" yesterday to shape the 1937 soil-conservation program.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said the program should aim at checking soil erosion, improving soil fertility, encouraging better land use and maintaining farm income.

Among "questions to be discussed" at the meetings are crop insurance and possible limitations on benefit payments for each farm.

Wallace has advocated a Federal crop insurance plan recently and the limitation of Federal payments was suggested to Congress, where complaints were heard that large corporations and big landholders had been paid thousands of dollars by the AAA.

The AAA said the "community sessions" would be followed by meetings of county committees and state and regional leaders, so that a "definite program may be ready for farmers by the first of the year."

Drought conditions will be considered in plans for the 1937 program, leaders said. A weather survey said the Great Lakes region and Mississippi and Ohio River valleys had been helped by rains during the first 10 days of September. Partial relief also was reported for the great plains, with good rains in Kansas, extreme Western Oklahoma and Northwestern Texas.

Fall farm operations, plowing and seeding, as well as pastures and late forage crops have been helped, it was said. An estimate by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics said crop yields for the entire country this year were reduced "20 to 25 per cent of what would have been produced had usual weather conditions prevailed."

Farmer community meetings in 10 corn belt states of the North Central regions were announced for the week of Sept. 21. The 10 states are Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

NEW MINISTER FOR CHURCH AT CHAFFEE

The Rev. S. E. Tesh of Piggott, Ark., has been selected pastor of the Chaffee Christian church. He succeeds the Rev. E. W. Ligon, pastor for five years, who resigned Sunday to enroll at the Johnson Bible College in Knoxville, Tenn.

Mr. Tesh has been a minister since 1931. He and his wife and two children will move to Chaffee about October 11.

the highest ever recorded, says the Edison Electric Institute. A year ago production was but 1,809,716,000 kilowatt hours, or 18 per cent less than the last August week.

Loadings of revenue freight for the week ending August 29 totaled 753,742 cars, the Association of American Railroads announces. This was an increase of 72,894 cars or 10.7 per cent, compared with the corresponding week of last year.

Engineering construction awards during August totaled $192,317,000 according to Engineering-News Record. In August, 1935, awards totaled $158,057,000.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company reports an increase of 68,000 telephones in service in the Bell System during August. In the same month last year an increase of 27,200 stations was reported.

Shipments of hosiery during July totaled 9,321,587 dozen pairs, up 5.4 per cent over June and 36.7 per cent over July 1935, according to the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers.

Furniture manufacturing orders this year have shown an indicated gain of 34 per cent over last year, the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, Inc., reports, and the industry's unfilled order book is now the "largest in some time."

After a busy summer the machinery industry faces the remainder of the year optimistically, the American Machinist reports in an industrial review. The trade journal noted there was shortage of qualified men for building machinery. It also said the industry anticipated a substantial volume of foreign orders for machinery tools.

The National Association of Purchasing Agents predicts a 20 per cent increase in general business by the end of the year. Business in every line is vastly improving, the report states.

Business is better on Missouri railroads. Passenger revenue on the Frisco for the first six months of the present year showed an increase of 25.8 per cent while freight revenue gained 19.3 per cent. Gross earnings of the Kansas City Southern Railway for August totaled $1,246,000, an increase of 40 per cent over August 1935.

SPANISH TREASURE MAY BE IN ARKANSAS HILLS—Often speculation arises as to what there is in the Ozarks besides rocks and corn liquor. The most obvious answer is simple—just more rocks. But there is a legend prevalent among the hill people of Arkansas that a Spanish treasure of fabulous value is hidden somewhere in the north-west corner of the state. Most of those who hear the story are inclined to scoff at the idea, but occasionally something happens which makes it appear the tale may be more than mere fiction. Several investigators have had doubt so completely erased from their minds that they have turned treasure hunters and have spent their last dimes in pursuit been seen or heard of since. The passage of the mine is blocked at the present time by a cave-in. Whether it is of recent origin can't be said.

"Today, near Eden's Bluff, will be found an old man living in a shack under the cliff. He spends all of his spare time honeycombing the hillside with shafts and passages. Ordinarily he is the very personification of friendliness. In the summer he sells lukewarm soda. He rents an old waterlogged box, which he innocently calls a boat, and hires himself out as a guide, and he makes a good one. But there is one thing he will not do. He will not talk about why he is digging in the mountain. When anything remotely pertaining to it is mentioned, he shuts up like a clam."

"The next incident is this chain of events happened about 1928. An article in a local newspaper described it somewhat as follows: 'A man from Oklahoma was told by an old Indian that his (the Indian's) father had been forced, with other Indians, to hide a treasure, consisting of gold bullion and many valuable church ornaments, in a cave in what is now known as the notorious Bear Hollow in Northwest Arkansas and Southwest Missouri. After this was cashed in a small natural room of the cave, the Indians were made to help build a dam across an underground stream, which flowed through the cave. In the center of the dam, the Spaniards built a wooden bulkhead which they plugged up with an enormous screw, fashioned from a cedar log. Outside the cave they branded a young sapling with the imprint of seven mule shoes and left a number of other signs. Then the Spaniards began to massacre the Indians, but in the melee the father of the Oklahoma Indian escaped."

"The man to whom this was told went to Northwest Arkansas, interested several local men who knew the territory, and they found the cave. But when they attempted to unscrew the plug, the end of which protruded above the surface of the artificial lake, the log twisted off near the base, leaving the bulkhead plugged and the passage blocked by a lake of water which rose to the low ceiling."

"Whether the present owners of the cave are making any headway at retrieving the treasure is not known, but it was said that because of the drought the lake was so low they had hopes of pumping out enough water that they might get at the bulkhead with an ax. But it is obvious that they have not acquired any great wealth since summer."

"Another link in the chain was added in 1932. This particular link was unearthed by a razor-back hog—on a farm between Bentonville and the little town of Hiwassee. One day as the pig's owner was slopping his porker he noticed a perfectly shaped rectangular slab of white rock lying in the mire by the trough. When cleaned, it proved to be a block of marble like that used in fine buildings and memorials. It was as out of place in the pen of razor-back hogs as a snowball in the desert. After the mud and slime were rubbed off, it could be seen that a crucifix was engraved in each corner, and as the polishing continued the faint outline of a circle began to take shape on one surface. It soon became apparent that it was the outline of a plug. It was removed and inside the exposed cavity there was a brass cup. The cup, removed, revealed a roll of parchment, inscribed with incomprehensible and seemingly meaningless symbols and figures. The parchment has been sent to scores of cryptographers and code experts in all parts of the country and is being sent to others, but it remains untranslated."

Now all this does not prove the actual existence of any treasure. The Spanish mine at Monte Ne may be explained as a real estate scheme of some imaginative crook who turned a seemingly useless hole in a cliff to good advantage. The cave in Bear Hollow may be explained in the same way, but since it is said to be constantly watched by armed guards, it is more reasonable to suppose it is the source of Bear Hollow's mountain dew. The code message in the marble block is not so easily explained, although a skeptic might brand it as an elaborate practical joke.

Since the finding of the parchment is not well known, even in Northwest Arkansas, most residents do not take it seriously, but something happened more recently which puts a new light on the legend. A farmer near Bella Vista, a summer resort not far from the Missouri line, saw something of a peculiar shape protruding from the ground. He gave it a kick, but instead of budging, it remained intact and vibrated with a sort of twanging sound. The farmer began pulling on it, and managed to free it from the ground. It was a sword of Damascus steel, obviously of Spanish design. The finder sold the sword to a mail carrier who lives in Bentonville. When the weapon was cleaned, a coat of arms was visible on the hilt.

Two curious investigators went to the spot on the farm where the sword was found, certain more clues were there. They were correct. The remains of a human being were unearthed. The spot, they decided, was the grave of a Spaniard who, when he died, was buried amid the scenes of his adventures. His sword, constant companion and the protector of his life, was left to watch over him in death. Inscribed with his coat of arms, the blade provided a fitting epitaph and a symbol of the life he led.—The Kansas City Star.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

RISE prices on dairy products should not be permitted to cut down the average family's consumption of milk, cheese and butter as these foods are particularly valuable for health. Evaporated milk is economical for cooking purposes and is equally as wholesome as fresh milk. If necessary to cut down, a substitute may be used for butter.

In general, prices on most foods are no higher than last week and a slight decrease has been noted in beef and lamb chops, young chickens, eggs, apples, green beans, lima beans, cabbage and new potatoes.

Here are three menus planned for different budget levels.

Spanish Treasure May Be In Arkansas Hills

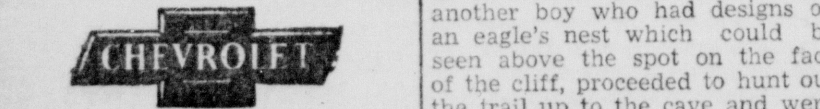

Often speculation arises as to what there is in the Ozarks besides rocks and corn liquor. The most obvious answer is simple—just more rocks. But there is a legend prevalent among the hill people of Arkansas that a Spanish treasure of fabulous value is hidden somewhere in the north-west corner of the state. Most of those who hear the story are inclined to scoff at the idea, but occasionally something happens which makes it appear the tale may be more than mere fiction. Several investigators have had doubt so completely erased from their minds that they have turned treasure hunters and have spent their last dimes in pursuit

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SHOOTING WITH THE SUN IN FRONT

"Yes," says Towser humbly, "my master is a great fisherman." Outdoor silhouettes like this are made with sun in front, lens shaded, fast shutter speed (at least 1/100 second) and small stop (at least f.16.)

TIME and again novices forget the old rule that says that you should have the sun over your shoulder when you take pictures, and suffer the penalty of a sun-struck negative. They see something "pretty" and excitedly shoot at it regardless of the fact that Old Sol may be glaring directly into the eye of the camera.

It's a good rule not to forget, but it does not mean that pictures can never be taken with the sun in front of the lens. Indeed, considering the number of sun-in-front pictures that are being hung in salons these days as examples of artistic achievement in photography, it would seem as if the rule is being broken oftener than it is observed.

But, before you try for such pictures deliberately, be sure you have acquired good judgment in the use of stop openings and shutter speeds, because light and shadow conditions with the sun in front are decidedly different from those when the sun is behind you.

In all such pictures it is absolutely essential that the camera lens be shielded from the direct rays of the sun, else "lens flare" on the negative is sure to result. This can be done with a hat or other object or by jockeying around for a position in which a tree or other lofty screen places the sun in eclipse. Or you may add a lens hood to your camera accessories.

Some of the most artistic sun-in-front pictures are made with the sun's rays striking the subject slightly from behind, that is, coming from the right-hand or left-hand side, but strikingly beautiful effects may be achieved with the sun almost directly in front. The resulting "high backlighting" seems to surround the subject with a glamorous radiance. Often, sunlight striking the blowing hair of a child or girl from behind gives a lovely halo-like effect.

Remember when you prepare your camera for the picture that, with most of the light behind the subject, features of faces and the identifying details of whatever the subject may be, will be mostly in shadow, and often deep shadow. Consequently a large stop opening and longer exposure will usually be needed.

It is by shooting with the sun (or brightest part of sky) in front of the lens that outdoor silhouettes are made. These pictures can be of fascinating interest and perhaps are less difficult to take than those in which you need detail in the shadow parts. The sun need not be shining brilliantly. Use a fairly small stop opening for clear-cut outlines and elimination of detail on the side of the subject toward the camera; then make a snapshot exposure. Let your subjects be outlined against the sky on a ridge, a hill or sand dune, with the sun or strong light behind them, or have them between you and the sun on the veranda of your home or hotel. Be absolutely certain before you click your shutter that the sun's rays are masked from the lens.

JOHN VAN GUILDER

Mrs. O. W. Joslyn, with a few well chosen words, presented the president, Mrs. Howlett, with a large birthday cake, bearing eight burning pink tapers in keeping with the eight years she has served as president of the council, and in celebration of her birth anniversary, which occurred on Monday. As Mrs. Joslyn finished speaking, the eighteen members present joined in singing "Happy Birthday to You". Mrs. Howlett responded, expressing her appreciation of the remembrance and the co-operation she had received from the membership.

METHODIST SOCIETIES HOLD ZONE MEETING

Members from Sikeston attended a Scott county zone meeting of the Methodist Women's Missionary Society held at Benton Sept. 12. The morning program was in charge of Mrs. R. H. Daugherty of Cape Girardeau and included a welcome address by Mrs. Stephen Barton, president of the Benton society. A luncheon was served at noon by the local members, and the afternoon program was in charge of Mrs. George Arnold of Farnett, Zone chairman. Mrs. J. E. Matthews was appointed secretary for the day, and in an afternoon business session, Mrs.

George Arnold was re-appointed zone chairman, and Mrs. C. E. Felker, zone secretary.

METHODIST S. S. COUNCIL WILL MEET

Sixty officers and teachers of the Methodist Sunday School comprising the Sunday school council, will meet on the E. J. Keith grounds, Monday night, in a quarterly meeting. The musical program is in charge of Mrs. E. J. Keith, and refreshments, planned by a committee composed of Mrs. Harry Dover, Mrs. A. C. Barrett, Mrs. W. E. Hollingsworth and Mrs. Geo. Kirk, will be served. If the weather is inclement, the meeting will be held at the church.

Mother and Baby

Very few people know that when a baby is born to a mother monkey the first thing after it's birth, and for weeks afterward, she tests her child by climbing trees and poles, and swinging from the trees with the babe holding to her, and if the baby once lets go and falls, the mother from then on will have nothing more to do with the baby.

she has just given little "Jimmy" the acid test.

Don Carlos' dog, pony and monkey hippodrome is but one of the many attractions, along with 13 new and novel riding devices to be brought here, for 4 days, starting Tuesday, Sept. 22, by the Hennies Bros. Shows, under the auspices of the Skeston Baseball Club, on the ball park grounds.

AN EXCITING NIGHT FOR WRESTLING FANS

Wrestling fans had one of their most exciting nights Tuesday. Early in the main event, Jack Johnson became so upset over Otto von Ludwig's treatment of Roy Welch that he rose up and with a cigarette dangling from his lips made ineffectual passes at the German. And later in the same match, someone grew so irate that he picked up Henry Welch's folding chair and threatened Von Ludwig with it. Many in the crowd were fighting mad.

Everything turned out all right for the fans, for Welch took two of the three falls, winning the first in fourteen minutes with flying tackles and a body straddle and the third in eight minutes with a serious of body slams.

The match was one of the most active in months. Von Ludwig, without his whiskers, was scarcely recognizable until he began showing the unfair tactics for which he is well known here. Von Ludwig delighted particularly Tuesday night in throwing Welch from the ring. It was this trick that agitated Johnson and the chair wielder. During the first round, Von Ludwig once threw Welch out and then kept him from returning by kicking him. Welch managed to butt Von Ludwig with his head, however, and return to down him.

Welch can be mean, too. He got so tired of Von Ludwig's treatment that in the second fall he put his opponent's head between the ropes and then just after he'd got free, twisted the ropes around Von Ludwig's neck again and did the same thing for Mike Meroney.

Von Ludwig got Welch in this round, though, and immediately before the chair threatening episode, threw Welch from the ring again and jumped down to kick him. Ludwig won in eleven minutes with body slams and

"everything he could think of," as Meroney said.

Ludwig bit a lot, too, and he and Welch choked each other before the match ended. Welch exhausted the German in the last round with what Von Ludwig called "heart slaps," and Von Ludwig was pretty irritated with the crowd anyway, especially with comments of a promoter friend of Welch's from Paducah.

Rex Mobley won the preliminary after George Ligosky had taken the first fall in eleven and a half minutes with a figure four leg scissors. Ligosky began wrestling fairly, but soon abandoned this and pulled hair, gouged eyes, and choked a little. In the first fall Meroney made him break a Japanese leg lock for holding the ropes for support, and in the second, Mobley broke a crabhold and another figure four leg scissors.

Mobley took the second fall in nine minutes with flying tackles and a double jack knife and the third in six with a rolling rock chair split. In the last round, Ligosky wrestled Meroney briefly for trying to make him let loose of the ropes, and a second time held Meroney in front of him for protection from Mobley.

SUNSET OPENS FEAST OF JEWISH NEW YEAR

Memphis, Sept. 16.—Sunset tonight will usher in the most solemn season of the Jewish religious year, the Feast of Rosh Hashanah, or New Year. It is a day of good will and since it is the first day of the seventh month or the day of the new moon of that month, it is invested with a significance of far holier import than other new moon days of the year.

With the passing of the centuries, the New Year's Day has come to embody the great religious idea of divine justice and human responsibility. Services in orthodox synagogues, including

Baron Hirsch and Beth El Emeth, will be continued tomorrow and Friday. At Temple Children of Israel the services will be continued tomorrow. The traditional trumpet blowing will take place in all temples and synagogues tomorrow.

Services at Temple Children of Israel, beginning at 8 o'clock tonight, will consist of a sermon, "Bon Voyage," by Dr. H. W. Ettelson and special ritual of the New Prayer Book, holiday volume. Herschel Banks, Jr., will assist. Dr. Ettelson's ident of the congregation; the "The World's morning will be "The World's Confusion and the Way Out." The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Sam Oppenheimer, will be augmented by violin, harp and cello, with the trumpet.

The service at Baron Hirsch Synagogue will begin at 6 o'clock tonight and will be chanted by a specially trained choir under direction of Cantor M. I. Levin. The first service tomorrow morning will be at 7 o'clock. Lee Faine will read the commencement and the first part will be chanted by M. Shimony, who will read the "Torah," or Law. The trumpet will be blown by the Rev. E. I. Segal.

Greetings by Sam Abraham, pressage, "Auditing Our Spiritual Accounts," by Rabbi Morris Taxon, and a musical program with Herbert Abramson, 12-year-old soloist, taking part will conclude the morning service. The night service will begin at 6 o'clock and will follow the same form as the previous night.

The second day's service will be similar to the first with Dave Dermon, vice president, extending greetings. Rabbi Taxon will give a message, using as the theme, "Duty, Incorporated." Regular Friday night services will be held, the concluding New Year's celebration being at noon Friday.

The Junior Baron Hirsch Congregation will hold separate services but at the same hours. Messages will be brought by Leo Burson, Aaron Shankman and Herbert Morris. Others taking part will be Louis Green, general chairman; M. Shimony, Isaac Loskove, Alec Strauch, Louis Kotler, Max Loskove and George Taxon.

Beth El Emeth Congregation will hold services at the same hours as other orthodox congregations. Sam Blaise will give the president's message and the service will be in charge of Cantor Abe Kipper. Hardwig Peres will give the address at the 10 o'clock service tomorrow morning. The service will be in charge of M. Kaplan.

FOUR KANSAS CITY BOYS BACK HOME WITH ADVICE

"See America first, but don't work too hard at it."

That is the advice of four Kansas City youths who went traveling this summer. After four days of pedaling up and down 199 miles of mountain highways on the Oregon coast they were convinced they had worked too hard and that there were more idyllic methods of seeing the country.

School Ends, Trip Begins

The boys, who attempted a bicycle odyssey, were students of Kansas City. They are John Chaney, president of this year's student council; Charles Myers, Jr., president of last year's council; Kenneth Spry, and Carl Balsiger returned to Kansas City last week after three months in the West. They reached home Tuesday.

Two days after commencement exercises in June the boys started out from Kansas City in a motor car loaded with groceries sufficient to last until they could reach Portland, Ore. The car was to be delivered to a motor car agency there.

Stopping at the homes of relatives "as long as the relatives lasted," the boys took the northern route through Yellowstone Park. Late one night they ran over a pheasant near Pinedale, Wyo., and there was our supper," as Chaney put it. Climbing out of the car, the boys prepared the pheasant for a midnight roasting over an open fire. The night tough meat rested on the stomachs of four boys sleeping in blankets under the cold stars of Wyoming.

With a half dozen flat tires behind them, the boys reached Portland on schedule and rented a three-room apartment. Immediately they hunted for jobs, and within two weeks all were working. Spry in a stationery shop, Myers in a bank, Balsiger and Chaney in grocery stores.

"We didn't have any 'pull,' either," according to Myers. "We just looked for jobs and found them."

For two months the youths worked steadily, saving their money for the trip home. They took turns cooking meals, washing dishes and clothes and keeping the rooms clean. Swimming and sun baths were their principal diversion.

Late in August the boys began to plan their trip home. Intending to go by way of Hollywood and Southern California points, the road to Kansas City seemed to be just one continuous trail sloping downward to home. Why not coast home on bicycles? On bicycles they could enjoy more of the scenery. On bicycles they could stop wherever and whenever they wanted. No worries about the amount of gasoline in the tank.

It was an entrancing vision and August 25 eight sturdy legs began pumping four new bicycles along the Pacific Coast highway, Hollywood bound.

Wherever the highway came close to the ocean the boys stopped for a swim, and thus made only eighteen miles the first day out of Portland. That night they slept in a hay loft.

The road began to look a little longer, and so the second day they speeded up, making seventy-two miles. By this time the muscles of their legs were beginning to give them trouble. It took a little longer to make the never-ending hills. The road seemed to curve always upward, instead of down. As their vigor diminished the number of miles traveled also diminished, and at the end of four days the youths had only gone as far as Winchester Bay, Ore., about 199 miles south of Portland.

There they lost no time in selling the bicycles and buying bus tickets for the rest of the trip. They stopped for a day in Chinatown at San Francisco and visited movie studios in Hollywood. In a restaurant on the Paramount lot they met Betty Mary Smith and her father, Mayor Bryce B. Smith, also touring the studios on the way home from a summer vacation. Balsiger remained in Southern California with relatives while the other three took another bus for home, making a brief stop at the Texas Centennial in Dallas.

When they reached a Kansas City bus station, Chaney had 9 cents, Myers 30 cents—the fruits of their summer work in Portland had lasted just long enough. They had been in every state in the far West except Utah and Nevada, and they were enthusiastic about everything—except four days on bicycles.—The Kansas City Star.

COURT SAVES MAN AND DUCK WITH HANGOVER

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 15.—The case of the drunken drake and the master who gave it beer came before Municipal Judge Thomas Foley today and the court ruled the strange pair must never get intoxicated together again.

Judge Foley dismissed a charge of intoxication against John L. Green, and gave him a 30-day suspended sentence on a charge of cruelty to animals.

The duck, named "Brother Crawford," was in court, apparently with a terrible hangover from drinking too much beer.

Dr. Harry Fremont, veterinarian of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, said he had given the duck a "sousemeter" test and found it in the last stages of intoxication.

"Brother Crawford likes beer," Green explained. "I was told water was not pure. Brother Crawford has a great career in Hollywood and I don't wish to ruin it with bad water."

Testimony showed Green and the duck had visited 12 saloons in one day.

TRI-COUNTY FAIR AT CARUTHERSVILLE OCTOBER 6-11, INC.

Beginning Tuesday morning and lasting through Sunday of the week of October 6, has been designated "Fair Dates" of the Tri-

County American Legion Fair at Caruthersville this year. No expense has been spared to make this the best Fair in the history of the tri-counties, and while under the direct management of the American Legion for the past two years only, the Pemiscot County Fair is one of the oldest in this section of the state, being more than 20 years old. Those in direct charge now are well schooled in knowing what the public want in the way of entertainment and this experience enables them to bring to the tri-counties a fair that is seldom equaled by any except the very largest places.

This year there are several added feature events. Of course, Sol's Liberty Shows will be on the midway for the week's engagement. This is one of the largest carnival companies on the road today and they are almost home folks to all of us they having "wintered" here for the past three or four years. Their shows are clean, entertaining and refined, each year finding them growing and adding some sort of new entertainment to their list of shows and rides.

Another feature this year is the races, both harness and running. Caruthersville has always been noted as having one of the fastest half-mile tracks, and this year will see more than 200 of the finest and fastest turf stock in attendance. Purses are generous and competition will be keen. This is real entertainment, so come and pick your winner.

Spicy and educational features by the dozens have been contracted for to be put on in front of the grandstand, and as usual the grandstand is free, one general admission ticket admitting you to the ground and stand. ## FIRST AUTUMN SNOW FALLS IN MONTANA

Helena, Mont., Sept. 14.—The first snow this fall dampedened Helena today.

The Weather Bureau said Helena had its first frost of the season this morning. It was described as "light, but enough to damage gardens."

It was the first snow here since June 2. Weather Bureau records show snow in July and August some years.

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

OUR 39th YEAR IN SOUTHEAST MISSOURI

CAMPAIGN NEWS

We are in just as dead earnest in pushing our fall campaign for more business as President Roosevelt and Governor Landon are in promoting theirs.

Facts are—nothing goes over these days unless those behind the gun are earnest, energetic and truthful.

I remember a five word text from Holy Writ which runs something like this; "Faith without works is dead".

In street language of today as applied to business those five words mean about this; MERE CLAIMS WITHOUT PROOF ARE PLAIN BUNK.

We ask those of you follow our newspaper and radio ads to apply that acid test to all of them.

I've been sending a good many messages to you through newspapers and over the air lately.

Those messages contained a good many claims of superiority and many promises relative to our Big Fall Campaign.

I don't know whether you remember them or not but I DO.

HERE'S MY POINT

Some may be saying to themselves; "Oh yes—the Lair Stores claim they are the best between St. Louis and Memphis and they're doing a lot of talking about their fall campaign for more business but that I want is PROOF." All right ladies—you are correct—and we're loaded for you with PROOF. Here's some of it;

Choice of 75 of the neatest little boudoir lamps you have seen anywhere, many of them in Maple—$1.25.

75 late style sofa pillows, large variety of colors, all filled with genuine Kapok—add much to appearances of any room—$1.00 and $1.50.

Big stack of small rugs, axminsters, chenille, rag—a 45 inch rag rug as low as 35c.

Cane seat chairs—favorites for kitchens and homes that must have low priced chairs—75c each.

Dozens and dozens of beautiful mirrors—many in popular circle type—some of the latter as low as $1.95. You have not seen so many beautiful mirrors before in S. E. Missouri.

Fair quality—pretty patterns—felt base rugs—9x12 size $4.95.

Also genuine Gold Seals—9x12 for $7.95.

Waverly Axminsters—prettiest ever—very late style—many without borders—9x12 sizes look like $50.00 rugs and wear that way—our price $32.50. By all means see our rug stock.

The Best $49.50 Cast Range in S. E. Missouri—bar none—is here. It's a St. Clair and a real range through and through.

A circulator heater—also made by St. Clair for $42.50 is also an extreme value. We could go on for pages—

There's General Electric Radios—Zenith Radios—A. B. C. Washers—Frigidaire beautiful bedroom outfits—Sealy mattresses and so on.

If the above is not PROOF of our claims then I don't know what that word means. Put in a little gas if you live at a distance and pay us a visit—You'll probably be well paid for it.

GLEN PLAIDS, IF YOU PREFER

Tailored by Hart Schaffner & Marx

Don't be afraid of color in your wardrobe this fall. Well-dressed men everywhere have accepted color . . . and plaids particularly, as one of the most important developments of the season. The plaids (actually District Checks . . . if you want to be particular) however, do not all come in those that are so typical of the clan or Urquhart. There are small and subdued checks for men of more conservative taste as well as broken and indefinite patterns . . . still District Checks, nevertheless . . . for men who prefer this type of color in their wardrobe. And if you really want color that's color . . . well, we've plenty of bold Glenurquharts to suit your flare for pattern. Especially significant values when you realize that every suit carries the famous Hart Schaffner & Marx label.

HALF OF ILLINOIS' CORN CROP SAFE FROM FROST

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 14.—Indications that at least half of the Illinois corn crop is safe from frost damage as generally warm weather hastened maturity were reported today by the State and Federal Agricultural Departments in their joint weekly report.

By the end of another week, about 72 per cent of the crop will be advanced beyond the stage where frost might cause some damage, the report said.

MOTHER CAT ADOPTS LITTER OF POLE CATS

Bethany, Mo., Sept. 14.—A mother cat, deprived of her litter by her owners who live on a farm northeast of here has adopted a family of orphaned pole cats.

Owners of the cat refrained from interfering with her care of the litter.

Woodring Cities Presidents Who Attacked Constitution

Brooklyn, Sept. 14.—Hrany F. Woodring, acting Secretary of War, told a Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting last night that "scarcely a presidential election passes without some ardent orator proclaiming that the Constitution is endangered."

George Washington, Woodring said, was charged with violation of the Constitution's letter and spirit, and—

"As Washington was attacked, so was Jefferson. And so in turn were Jackson, Lincoln, Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson.

"It is significant that the abler the President, the more virulent the attack. If it is significant, too, that in every instance the attack failed.

"The truth is and ever has been that no individual worthy of the office of President would seek to weaken or destroy the Constitution."

BABSON SAYS TURNING POINT IS THIS WEEK

Salem, Mass., Sept. 14.—Roger Babson, president of Babson Institute Wellesley on a visit to the third annual exhibit of early American industries today predicted that "this week will mark the turning point in the depression." Babson said the current election could not possibly affect business trends.

"Conditions make Presidents, and Presidents do not make conditions," he said.

ARKANSAN DEVELOPS THIN SKINNED PEACH

Jonesboro, Ark., Sept. 16.—A thin-skinned peach has been developed by W. A. Williams, Craighead County farmer. The flavor, seed and meat of the fruit is similar to that of an ordinary peach, while the skin is like that of an apple. County Agent A. Raybon Sullivan said it was excellent for canning and drying.

Williams now has five trees bearing the fruit. The original tree, which came from an undetermined stock, is eight years old.

MONAN'S ALLEGED KILLER BOUND TO CIRCUIT COURT

Tommy Briggance was bound over to the next term of the Pemiscot county circuit court Monday after a preliminary hearing in Caruthersville on a charge of killing Bill Monan, a former Sikeston resident, at his night club near Caruthersville September 5. Justice J. D. Huffman did not grant defense attorneys' request that he be released on bond on the plea that he killed Monan in self defense but ordered him held in jail.

Briggance was represented by Elmer Peal and S. J. Corbett.

IMPROVEMENT IN CROPS REPORTED IN MISSOURI

Columbia, Sept. 16.—A slight improvement in crops over much of the state was shown today following rains of last week, E. A. Logan, state agricultural statistician, reported.

Pasture condition was 12 per cent of normal as compared to 8 per cent the week before, but the report added that 278,000 farmers still are feeding grain rations to livestock. Alfalfa made the best gain, the report said, with most improvement shown in northwestern, eastern and southeastern counties.

UTILITY EMPLOYEES GET $3,000,000 RAISE

Newark, N. J., Sept. 15.—Directors of the Public Service Corporation voted today to grant a 10 per cent pay increase to some 20,000 employees.

The corporation said the increase would make a difference of about $3,000,000 a year in pay rolls.

It represents abolition of the last pay cut imposed by the utilities corporation during the depression. Electric, gas, street railway and bus line employees in most of the state are affected.

$11,035 for Sikeston Schools

A full allotment of $11,035.39 representing state aid funds for schools of the Sikeston district arrived here Thursday, R. E. Bailey, secretary of the board of education, announced. The allotment is about $3200 higher than that of September, 1935, he said.

A theft case against Willie Hibler, a negro, was dismissed in Judge Joseph W. Myers' court Thursday. Costs were assessed against George Ellerbrook, the prosecuting witness, who charged Hibler with stealing money from a pocket in the door of Ellerbrook's car.

Hearings for Elmer Oliver and R. E. Bryant, who charged each other with reckless driving after a collision here Saturday, were continued in Judge William S. Smith's court, until October 8. A hearing for Robert Dickson, a cab driver accused of reckless driving, is set for October 3.

Negro Hurt in Fall at Jail

Lynn Johnson, a negro, suffered a broken collar bone late Wednesday when he fell down a flight of stairs in the county jail at Benton. Johnson and Willie Hill, also a negro, were arrested here recently by Constable W. O. Ellis on a charge of stealing two chickens from a resident of Sunset addition. Johnson was taken to a Cape Girardeau hospital in the Welsh ambulance.

INVITED TO CHAFFEE

Sikeston ladies who are interested in Parent-Teachers Association work, are invited to attend a luncheon at Chaffee Friday, at 1 o'clock, in the Hotel there. The Scott county council of the P-T-A. is sponsoring the luncheon and a school for officers will be held in connection with it. Mrs. R. L. Harrison of Benton is president of the council.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was given Wednesday night by Dr. and Mrs. T. C. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Swacker and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Keller at the McClure home on Park avenue, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Trowbridge, who recently lost their clothing and furniture in a fire.

Orville Lumsden, who is attending Teachers' college at Cape Girardeau this winter, on leave of absence from the Missouri State Highway Dept. spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Lumsden.

THE EDITOR
SAYS—

Just a few more words about a proposed stadium for the use of students of our schools and neighbors schools and for all athletic events. It is now proposed to add a swimming pool for those of our citizens who cannot pay for the privilege or would have to go out to one of the ditches. In addition to the swimming pool for the older children and adults, it is proposed to have in connection a wading pool for the little fellows who could not be permitted in a deep water pool and the two separated by a partition of some sort that would permit the free flow of water at all times. Then it is believed after the stadium is completed it could be turned over to the school district with the school board as custodians who might secure an athletic director to be part time of the faculty and part time as supervisor of the athletic field, stadium and pool. Much encouragement has been given to the proposition and as plans are completed there will probably be a mass meeting called to pass on the proposition and committee appointed on ways and means to put the plan over.

September 18, today, is the editor's 73rd birthday. While we do not feel as frisky as we have felt to live this long and enjoying the good health that we have. We hope for a few more years of life and hope that we can be of service in some way to the community in which we live.

Thursday morning we saw a young woman wearing, apparently, her first pair of high heel slippers trying to hurry. She made such a poor out that it brought to mind, that maybe she had been going barefooted at home and hadn't been used to being shod.

Mr. Landon and his political speakers have a lot to say of the spending spree of the present administration. The facts and figures show that the State of Kansas received from this administration to help the unemployed and the farmers, seven dollars for every one paid in Federal taxes, while the State of Missouri received two dollars for every one paid in. This from the special correspondent of the Kansas City Star in Washington, D. C. So Governor Landon really has little to criticize the present administration for help given to his State of Kansas.

The Republicans are making a great-to-do over the outcome of the election in Maine. They might remember that Hoover also carried Maine. The victory in that State may be classed as a dog fall or victory for both sides. While the Republicans were victorious in every office the majorities were very small.

"If there has been anything specific at all in Governor Alf Landon's speeches it is the clear intimation that the only way to govern America is to go back to the ways of the past—with emphasis on the twenties. Not even Mr. Hoover has sounded a more dismal, reactionary note."—Vicksburg Herald.

Do you suppose there is a Democrat in this section who belongs to a fraternal insurance association of any sort who is weak enough to believe Major Stark will keep Mr. O'Malley as insurance commissioner after his election and he is installed as Governor of Missouri. It is the weakness of the other candidates for Governor of the State that has caused them to declare their hand before the election. And again, Mr. O'Malley being affiliated with the Democratic party the other candidates of course would not keep him if elected. When Governor Stark selects his cabinet, or assistants that are appointive, he will naturally select those who he knows and believes will add strength to his administration. For a man to say he will not keep an officer, before he is elected is presuming a lot, and knowing Major Stark to be a business man and a man of sense and sound judgment, we are of the opinion the Major showed good common sense in not making public anything that he had in mind when elected as Governor.

Farmington Man Named Presbytery Moderator

Ministers and elders of the Potosi Presbytery elected the Rev. Roland Sims of Farmington moderator for a six-months term and decided to convene next time either in Cape Girardeau or in Brazeau in Perry county before the end of a regular two-day fall meeting here Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Rev. C. V. Farrell of Malden, the retiring moderator, preached at the opening session Tuesday night on "Christ in His Church First", the theme of the jubilee year of the southern Presbyterian church. At Wednesday's session, delegates accepted a revised church book of rules Mr. Sims has been working on since the spring meeting and heard a request of Don Walters of Cape Girardeau that he be received as a candidate for the ministry.

Mr. Walters, a graduate of the Cape Girardeau teachers' college, is now teaching school in Southeast Missouri. He intends to enroll next year at the Louisville, Ky., Presbyterian seminary and to train for entrance in the foreign mission field. He hopes to be sent to Africa.

Because rules of the Presbytery require that candidates for the ministry apply two months before a decision is made on their applications, Mr. Walters' request cannot be considered until the spring meeting. Ministers and elders here could give him only a rising vote of confidence and affection.

Before adjournment, the Rev. W. W. Gray and Elder T. W. Wood of Caruthersville were chosen commissioners to the general assembly at Montreal, N. C., next May, and Mr. Sims and an elder of Farmington, not named, were elected alternates.

These persons attended the Presbytery meeting in Sikeston: Ministers—M. L. Daugherty of Potosi, F. P. DeBolt of Perryville, Dorsey D. Ellis of Sikeston, C. V. Farrell of Malden, W. J. Gammon of Jackson, R. E. Carroll of Kennett, W. W. Gray and Elmer Peal of Caruthersville, C. H. Morton of Cape Girardeau, James W. McNutt of Caledonia, B. R. Schwager and John E. Travis of New Madrid, and Roland Sims of Farmington.

Elders—A. M. Riehl of Potosi, A. F. Meeks of Sikeston, L. Howlett of Charleston, J. R. Talley of Jackson, O. S. Harrison of Kennett, V. C. Meyers of Cape Girardeau, Fred Cole of Caledonia, J. M. Jamison of Irondale, and F. M. Karsch of Farmington.

RUST COTTON PICKER TO BE DEMONSTRATED HERE

The recently perfected Rust cotton picker will be demonstrated on Grover Baker's farm at the north edge of town the last of this week.

In a letter to Mr. Baker, Erif Orf, field adviser for the Missouri Self-Help Cooperative Association said, "It is our desire to find out what this machine will do on Missouri soil and under Missouri working conditions. It is possible that the final results may be of benefit not only to the co-operatives but to all growers of Southeast Missouri."

Mr. Orf wrote he had arranged with the Rust brothers to have the machine here "not later than the end of this week". He said he would notify Mr. Baker when he learned the day and time of the demonstration.

Two Cars Damaged by Collision Down Town

Two automobiles were slightly damaged early Wednesday morning when George Steele's hydraulic brakes failed to stop his car at the Center street-North New Madrid intersection.

Mr. Steele's westbound car collided with one being driven south on New Madrid by Clyde Couch. W. F. Browning, who was crossing the street at the time, suffered a sprained back when he fell as he ran to get out of the car's path.

Mr. Steele's son, John, told him after using the car Tuesday night that the starter wasn't working properly, and Mr. Steele started to drive to Boyer's to have it repaired. He didn't know until he tried to observe the stop sign at New Madrid that neither the foot nor the emergency brakes worked. Both he and Mr. Couch swerved their machines toward the southeast corner of the intersection, but they could not avoid a collision. Neither man had been in an accident before.

Mr. Browning was treated by Dr. Howard A. Dunaway and then taken home in the Ellis ambulance.

MRS. C. H. SHELL'S FATHER SUCCUMBS AT MARIANNA

Guy Morton, the father of Mrs. C. H. Shell of Sikeston, died at his home in Marianna, Ark., Sunday night after a prolonged illness. He was 51 years old.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning, and burial was in a Marianna cemetery. C. H. Shell, who went to Marianna Sunday, returned home late Tuesday. His wife will remain in Marianna until the end of this week.

Mr. Morton had lived in Marianna twenty years and was employed by the Miller Lumber Company. Besides his daughter, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minerva Morton; a son, James Morton of Marianna; two sisters, Miss Lula Morton of St. Louis and Mrs. C. M. McWilliams of Jackson; and a brother, Garnett Morton of St. Louis.

WPA WORKERS TO BE RECLASSIFIED BY NRS

All persons certified for work on the WPA will be interviewed again soon for reclassification in the national re-employment service files, it was announced yesterday.

E. R. Ryan, the Scott county NRS interviewer, said that all persons certified, whether they are now working for the WPA or are waiting to be assigned to projects, will be reinterviewed in order that the NRS may have an up-to-date record of the abilities of laborers. Mr. Ryan will interview WPA workers at their jobs. Persons waiting for assignments to work must go to the NRS office in Benton.

Ilmo Big Bucks Again Beat Local All-Stars

By Leo Smith

The Ilmo Big Bucks defeated the Sikeston club at Ilmo Sunday by a score of 4 to 1 for their second win over the locals.

Hall, a lanky southpaw, was on the mound for the Bucks, pitching a six-hit game and striking out eleven batters.

Sikeston had a new hurler, "Dago" Love of Morehouse, on the firing line and he did a good job of pitching, allowing only seven hits and striking out five batters, but his teammates couldn't hit for him.

Dace was the leading hitter for Sikeston, getting two hits out of four trips while Stone and Templeton were the leading hitters for the Bucks, each getting two hits out of four trips to the plate.

The Big Bucks play their third game here Sunday.

BIG BUCKS HERE SUNDAY

The Ilmo Big Bucks will play the Sikeston All-Stars here Sunday afternoon, Clay Mitchell announced yesterday. The Big Bucks have defeated Sikeston's team twice, most recently by a score of 4 to 1 at Ilmo last Sunday.

Football Season To Open Here Sept. 25

The Sikeston high school football season will open September 25 when Matthews comes here for a night game.

W. E. Mahew and Tharon Stallings have been busy for a month giving Bulldogs intensive training to prepare them for difficult foes, and since the team will have twelve lettermen and six men who received minor letters last year, fans are hopeful of a successful season.

The Bulldogs will play Cape Central here October 2 and then will rest the following week end to be ready for a third game in Sikeston with Jackson on October 16. The rest of the schedule follows: October 23, at Chaffee; October 30, at Farmington; November 6, Dexter, here; November 13, Kennett, here; Thanksgiving, at Charleston. All this season's games except the one at Charleston will be played at night.

Lettermen who will be in the lineup are Moore Greer and Charles Rushing, the co-captains; Jesse Cotton, G. B. Greer, and Ross Children, seniors; and Charles Beal, Gene Grant, Woodrow Gwaltney, John Raymond, Shupert, Paul David Allen, Sherman Grant, and Charles Tanner, juniors. Stanley Woods, a senior; Paul Bowman, Edward Matthews, Bob Dover, and Bob Matthews, juniors; and Ralph Baker, a sophomore, are minor lettermen who will also play this year.

SIKESTON MAN GETS YEAR FOR MANN ACT VIOLATION

Henry Helton, 23 who gave his home address as Sikeston, was sentenced to a year and a day in the reformatory when he pled guilty in the East St. Louis federal court Monday to interstate transportation of women for immoral purposes in violation of the Mann act.

Helton was arrested in Cairo August 15 and charged with living with Dorothy Gullett, 21, in Sikeston, Paducah, and Cairo, although they were not married. The complaint to which he pled guilty accused him only of taking a girl from Sikeston to Cairo.

Helton, 41, an uncle of Henry arrested in Cairo the same day with Gaynele Chamberlain, 24, has not been heard in court. Frank is believed to have served prison terms for violating the white slave act and for automobile theft.

EAST PRAIRIE MAN FINED $50 FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Judge Joseph W. Myers fined Lee Cruise of East Prairie $50 Thursday afternoon when Cruise pled guilty in justice court to a charge of reckless driving.

Cruise was arrested the night of September 3 by Trooper V. C. Boisabun and John Tandy after his car and one driven by Wid Robbins of Piggott, Ark., had collided on Highway 61 nine miles north of here. Both machines were damaged but no one was hurt.

Cruise was at first booked for driving a car while he was intoxicated, but at his hearing Thursday, Prosecuting Attorney W. P. Wilkerson reduced the charge to a misdemeanor. Cruise has agreed to pay for repairs to Robbins' automobile.

A case against Willard Westmoreland, accused of felonious assault, was dismissed. Court costs were assessed against Edna Davis, the prosecuting witness.

Other cases were continued.

H. S. TEACHERS HONOR MEMBERS OF FACULTY

Teachers in the high school gave a tea and informal reception Thursday afternoon in the Home Economic Room, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Duncan who were married in the early summer, and to Supt. and Mrs. Roy V. Ellis in honor of their 30th wedding anniversary. Lovely gifts were presented to the honorees.

Scott Cotton Crop Is 46 pct. of Normal

Columbia, Mo., Sept. 16.—August heat and drouth were the main factors which resulted in one of the most destructive seasons for Missouri cotton in the records. Very little or no rain fell during August along with high temperatures and a blazing sun which resulted in wholesale dropping of squares and small bolls. Young and old bolls have opened too fast reducing the yield, as shown from reports to E. A. Logan, statistician, United States bureau of agricultural economics. Picking started generally around August 24 three days earlier than in 1934.

Ginning were some 13,400 bales on September 1 or more than any recent year. Abandonment is small and only 0.6 per cent of the July acreage as most of the standing crop will be picked over. The harvest acreage is 349,000 with a condition of 56 per cent normal. A yield of 280 pounds of lint is indicated compared with 280 last year and 256 for a ten-year average. Estimated production is 204,000 bales against 177,000 in 1935. Missouri has little or no weevil damage but has a small loss from boll worms and very little leaf worm infestation up to the last week of August.

The national crop is 11,121,000 bales against 10,638,000 for 1935. Average yield is 179.2 pounds per acre against 185.3 last year and 169.9, the ten-year average, poor in Oklahoma and under average in Arkansas, Texas and Virginia but above average in all other states. Ginnings to September one were 1,373,868 bales compared with 1,135,090 for 1935 and 1,402,835 for 1934. The carry-over of American cotton is 7,100,000 bales when added to the September estimate totals 18,221,000 against an average of 20,437,000 bales for the season, 1923-1933. County conditions are: Ozark 49%, Ripley 50%, Butler 41%, Dunklin 59%, Mississippi 68%, New Madrid 55%, Pemiscot 60%, Scott 56%, and Stoddard 54%.

SCOTT COUNTY WILL BUY SIX NEW G. M. C. TRACTORS

Drivers are expected to arrive here today (Friday) with six new G. M. C. tractors bought by the Scott County Milling Company and accepted by them Tuesday at the factory in Pontiac, Mich. Luther Hicks, in charge of the party, is accompanied by Gene Bowman and W. C. McManus. Each of the men is driving a tractor which hauls another one. The men would have arrived here earlier in the week if they had not been arrested in an Ohio town Tuesday on a minor trucking law violation and been forced to remain there most of the day.

COUNTY REPUBLICAN HEADQUARTERS HERE

Scott county Republican headquarters will be established this week in a downstairs room of the Young building on Center street. George W. Kirk, chairman of the county Republican central committee, said he hoped to have the office opened by Saturday. A stenographer will be hired to interview persons visiting the headquarters and to distribute literature kept there. Republicans could find no suitable room for rent in Benton. See "Ichy" Arthur for Bank Nite Insurance.

M. E. District Missionary Meet To Be Held Here

A semi-annual meeting of Methodist church missionary societies of the Cape Girardeau district will be held here Monday and Tuesday, September 23 and 24.

The session will open Monday night with a young people's conference and banquet in the Methodist church. Mrs. A. H. Dewey of St. Louis, chairman of the young people's conference, will speak in the auditorium after dinner, and members of the Benton society will be hostesses to young women of the district. Mrs. Jephtha Riggs of Cape

Girardeau, district secretary, will preside at an all-day meeting the following day. Mrs. J. N. Ross will lead the devotional, and women prominent in missionary society work will speak. Lunch will be served at the church at noon.

Conference officers who are expected to attend include Mrs. A. R. Walker, Mrs. H. F. Clinger, Mrs. Carl Burrus, and Mrs. A. H. Dewey, all of St. Louis. Mrs. William O'Toole of St. Louis and Miss Kathryn Johnson of Flat River, returned missionaries, are scheduled to speak before the conference is adjourned.

TO ELECT OFFICERS FOR WILD LIFE ASSOCIATION

Permanent officers of the Southeast Missouri Wild Life Protective Association will be elected at a meeting of the organization in the Marshall hotel at 7:30 Monday night, September 28. L. H. Shivel, the temporary chairman, will preside.

The association's announced purpose is "to promote proper sportsmanship in fishing and hunting, to preserve and to protect our supply of fish and game, and to restock exhausted fishing places and natural haunts with new fish and game."

All persons interested in encouraging the organization are invited to join it. Annual dues will be $2.50.

MATTHEWS FARMER DIES OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

John Jefferson Asa, a retired farmer, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Hardin, near Matthews Tuesday of chronic Bright's disease. He had been in ill health four years.

Funeral services were held in the Matthews Christian church at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. C. F. Transue, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene here, preached. Burial was in the Matthews cemetery.

Mr. Asa was born in Union county, Illinois, on June 4, 1863, and had lived in New Madrid county forty years. Besides his daughter, he is survived by a brother, J. R. Asa of Canolau; and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Alice Gillem of Dorena. Albritton service.

Miss Esther Brumfield Marries Bobby Roberts

A marriage license was issued in Cairo to Miss Esther Brumfield, 23, of Sikeston, and Oscar L. Diefenbach, 29, of St. Louis, the Tuesday edition of the Cairo Evening Citizen said. Relatives here said they knew nothing of the marriage.

Miss Brumfield was granted a divorce from A. Jack Matthews and a change of name in circuit court September 8 and the next day left here, saying she would visit her sister, Mrs. Ozetta Taylor, in Baltimore, Md.

Diefenbach, better known here as Bobby Roberts, former master of ceremonies at The Gables, was the husband of Mrs. Grace Thomason of St. Louis, who gained notoriety for her part in the Nellie Muech baby conspiracy. He left Sikeston August 12 but returned here the week before Miss Brumfield was granted a divorce. Reports said he went away to fulfill an engagement as master of ceremonies at an Illinois county fair. Both were reported to have driven to Baltimore on their honeymoon.

Mrs. Harry Austin, nee Miss Pauline Moore, and daughters of New York City are visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Moore, in Charleston.

NEW HARMONY BAPTISTS TO HAVE REVIVAL SOON

The General Baptist church at New Harmony, better known as Rootwad, four miles west of Sikeston, will begin a series of revival services on October 10, with Rev. Evans and Lonnie Masterson in charge. The public is cordially invited to attend.

MORLEY MAN HEADS SCHOOL MASTERS

B. B. Thompson, superintendent of schools at Morley, was elected president of the Scott-Mississippi county school masters' club at a meeting in Benton Monday night. Members also chose Fred Lewallen of Chaffee, vice-president; and C. E. Brewer of Farnett, secretary.

Demo. Headquarters at Benton

Emil Steck of Farnett has charge of Scott county Democratic headquarters opened in the O. L. Spencer building in Benton. Alfred Halter of Benton is serving as secretary.

Religious Activities

PRESBYTERIAN REVIVAL TO START SUNDAY NIGHT

A revival meeting will start at the Presbyterian church Sunday. The Rev. Dr. T. S. Smylie, of St. Louis, who is to be the preacher, will be here to preach Sunday evening. Services evening will begin at 8:00 o'clock and thereafter each evening at 7:30. At 7 o'clock each evening a special children's service will be held, led by Mrs. D. D. Ellis and Mrs. R. A. Moore. All children are urged to attend.

Dr. Smylie is the popular young pastor of the large Central Presbyterian church in St. Louis. He is the author of "The Pocket Pulpit", evangelistic sermons published in pamphlets that may be carried in the pocket. He is a man of scholarship, personality, and consecration, abounds with evangelistic zeal, and is an able preacher.

The Presbyterian church extends a most hearty welcome to its friends in Sikeston and the surrounding community to attend this series of meetings.

Subject of the sermon to be delivered at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning by the pastor.

"What Is The Greatest Hindrance To The Church?" Just what is it? Is it Modernism? Is it Atheism? Is it immorality? Everybody knows that the church is not thriving like she ought to. What is the matter? What do you think is keeping her from growing? Come Sunday morning to hear the pastor discuss this vital matter. Remember the time is 9 o'clock.

FIDELIS CLASS OFFICERS ELECTED MONDAY NIGHT

The Fidelis Class of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Gene Kindred on Matthews Avenue Monday evening, September 14, with 19 members present. At this time the following officers for the coming year were elected:

President—Mrs. Otis Champion. First vice-president—Mrs. Ralph Ancell. Second vice-president—Mrs. Melfred Taylor. Third vice-president—Mrs. Beryl Tidwell. Fourth vice-president—Mrs. M. S. Tomerlin. Secretary—Mrs. Jack Watson.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Byrd at Matthews, Mo., which time a bundle sale will be held.

CONCORDIA LUTHERAN CHURCH

Divine Service—10:30 a. m. Sunday School—9:45 a. m. On the first, third, and fifth Sundays of each month. Martin L. Cook, pastor.

The Gospel services which have been held during the past five weeks with Rev. Cook in charge, will come to a close tonight (Thursday), the topic for the final message being "Are We All Going to the Same Place?" We take this opportunity to thank all individuals, as well as the business houses who have helped make this series of services a success. Rev. Cook will conduct a series of services in Lape, Ark., next week.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday school, 9:15 o'clock. Morning Worship—11 o'clock. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Venture of Faith." Evening worship—7 o'clock. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Religion of Friendship." Epworth League—6:30 o'clock. E. H. Orear, pastor.

GLEANERS TO HAVE RUMMAGE SALE SAT.

The Gleaners Class of the Methodist church will have a rummage sale Saturday, September 19, in the Young building next door to Missouri Utilities office.

Seventh Lecture on Fulfillment of Prophecy

Elder John B. Huffman has delivered nine consecutive sermons in the little park in front of Sterling's store, Sikeston, Mo., and six of these messages have been devoted to "Signs of the Times, or Fulfillment of Bible Prophecy."

He will deliver the seventh lecture on the following subject at the same place in Sikeston, commencing between 1:30 and 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 19. These are interesting talks, and everybody should be interested in any one vividly portraying the fulfillment of prophecy, as it is rapidly being enacted in the world today.

Surely, the wars, the distress, the commotion, the internal uprisings, the conflict among nations for rivalry, the terrible economic and social conditions, the unrest and uneasiness prevailing not only in Europe, but all over this mundane sphere is enough to arouse an infidel and atheist, agnostic, or Deist to realization of fulfillment of the latter day signs preceding the coming of Jesus Christ (not the end of the world). People of all denominations, and unbelievers, non-Christians invited to hear this lecture Saturday afternoon, commencing between 1:30 and 2 o'clock, Sept. 19.

Rummage sale—Saturday, September 19—Parish Hall—Catholic Ladies sponsors.

In asking about a person who had been in bad health for the past year, the answer was: "She is still enjoying poor health." Another innocent bystander said if her husband had given her a thrashing months ago and told her to get up and shake a leg, she would have been well months ago, and so goes the world.

MAD DOG BITES FORTY OTHERS, NIPS 2 PEOPLE

Mayor J. J. Blughart of Fomfelt and Dr. G. T. Dorris, mayor of Illinois, ordered all dogs tied or penned until October 1 after reports said a mad dog had bitten forty others and nipped at two persons before escaping police-men's fire and disappearing.

Miss Louise Stevens, an Illinois Telephone operator, said the mad dog attacked her on the ankle but did not break the skin, and Raymond Ross reported he barely escaped being bitten by it.

The dog's owner, Leo Steger of Illinois, penned it up for observation several days ago when it became ill, but it broke out and began biting other dogs. Several shots failed to stop it.

Washington Comment

About 115,000 thousands visitors entered Washington on Labor Day, and more than 100,000 residents of the capital city left it to find pleasure elsewhere a circumstance tending to prove the truth of the old saying that one man's meat is another man's poison. Having fun on Labor Day cost 304 lives throughout the country. Washington had no fatality to report. Those who left town seem to have had the worst of it, in that they passed from an area of comparative safety into a war zone where reckless driving, rocking the boat and the like were in order. Washington is a fairly secure place saving for congressmen, who have to run the chance of being defeated at the polls.

Doctor Hanstaengl has been relieved of office in a central European country. Although the pronunciation of his name may have given no trouble in his native land, it seems to English speaking persons that something drastic should be done with a man whose name has to be coughed.

John L. Lewis, president of the United States Mine Workers, says that industry in this country could easily give unskilled labor a minimum wage of $2500 per year, a consummation devoutly to be wished. The problem, however, would not be solved by the payment specified. Until a way of regulating the cost of living is discovered, twenty-five hundred dollars next year or the year after may be worth no more than fifteen hundred dollars today. The question of supply and demand must be taken into consideration also, and the supply of unskilled labor is large. Anyone who compares what his smaller pay of a few years ago could accomplish, with the results achieved by larger pay that he may happen to be receiving today, will reach the conclusion that material welfare is a complex thing, depending upon many factors other than the contents of the pay envelope.

The Treasury says that it is likely that Germany will not pay a fourteen million dollar debt installment due the latter part of September. This is so sudden. Who could have foreseen it? Thus another fondly cherished hope is dashed to the ground.

Pennsylvania is planning to clean up her rivers, many of which have become little else than sluices for mill filth. Rivers have a hard time when civilization comes in. The River Shannon in Ireland, for instance, used to have nothing more taxing to do than to furnish a theme for poems.

Now it has the job of furnishing electricity to illuminate the villages along its banks, according to a delegate attending the Power Conference in Washington. Perhaps the changed conditions are not to be regretted. Good poetry is welcome, but the average housewife is willing to swap some poetry in exchange for an opportunity to get rid of having to clean and fill oil lamps.

Mexico is going to control the chicle industry. Chicle is one of the chief ingredients of chewing gum. If the rest of the world does not approve of what Mexico has in mind, the next step is to chew the rag.

The War Mothers organization plans to combat the Reds. Attention is directed not to the Red peril, but to the sturdy and courageous spirit of American women, which prompted them to unite upon the basis of a common ground of anxiety for the welfare of soldier sons, and sorrow arising from the havoc of war. It is noteworthy, further, that the War Mothers are "planning", looking toward the future in the light of the lessons of the past. The War Mothers might easily be excused, had they elected to remain cloistered with their grief. It was their choice, rather, to carry on in useful exertion. Whether or not their efforts to mold current affairs bear fruit is of secondary consequence. The important point is that they have set a high example, by which their descendants may be encouraged to rise above the sackcloth and ashes of many a torturing day.

WHY A MEDICINE FOR ONE IS ANOTHER'S POISON

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 15.—Science finally has discovered why one man's medicine may be another man's poison.

Solution of this problem was reported by Dr. Karl Landsteiner of Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, 1930 Nobel prize winner, to the Harvard tercentenary conference of arts and sciences.

A sort of internal hay fever is at the root of the matter, Dr. Landsteiner said. Just as goldenrod is a pretty flower to some but a nuisance to the hay fever sufferer so some medicines beneficial to many are irritants to a few, he explained.

Allergic reaction is what science calls the supersensitive, hay fever reaction of certain individuals to hay, goldenrod, ragweed, feathers, fur and the like. The recent discovery of drug allergy resulted from a reaction called anaphylaxis encountered during investigation of the subject of immunity.

When an animal is treated with a foreign protein it develops specific substances called "antibodies" which react chemically with the original protein if introduced into the animal again and thus produces immunity. Sometimes the animal, instead of being immunized, is killed. This adverse result is called anaphylaxis.

Study of this effect in perfecting serums and antitoxins resulted in the discovery that some persons have definite adverse idiosyncrasies toward certain drugs used in medicines.

YES--THAT WAS ONLY EIGHT YEARS AGO. NOW THERE ARE 13,800 PHILLIPS STATIONS! IT SURE TAKES A GREAT GASOLINE TO GROW LIKE THAT!

LISTEN to a success story: But remember that you haven't heard the whole story until you have listened to your motor after filling the tank with Phillips 66 Poly Gas!

The times have been tough. And so has the competition. Yet, every year right through the Depression, sales of Phillips 66 kept climbing to new record-breaking levels.

Obviously when every man and woman had economy uppermost in mind, only a product giving exceptional value could have earned such tremendous gains in popular approval.

Today, thanks to wise and thrifty motorists, Phillips is one of the largest Independents in the entire oil industry. And as an Independent, Phillips has rolled up a remarkable record of pioneering.

Phillips was first to match gasoline to weather. First to offer high test gasoline at the price of ordinary motor fuel. First to offer at all its stations the extra-powered gasoline resulting from the patented POLY process.

From the very beginning, we have honestly and confidently promised that you would feel that difference with your first trial tankful. Many new thousands of drivers must be doing so every day—must be noting the added power, pep, pick-up, and mileage—because Phillips sales figures are still headed sharply upwards.

Why not give your motor a chance to surprise you! Try a tankful of the new Phillips 66 Poly Gas. It's a sensational motor fuel. And a sensational value, too, since it does not cost a penny more than ordinary gasoline.

NEW MADRID COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

By Milus R. Davis

At the County Teachers' Meet last Friday, a crowded house welcomed the addresses of Blanche Griffith, H. B. Masterson, Marcus L. Grant, and teacher of the Philippine Islands, who displayed and interesting collection including an axe used by the head-hunters of the islands to behead their victims. John A. Wieland, State Superintendent of Illinois, closed the program with an address giving us some good ideas. Singing was led by W. L. Giddens of Canolou and Marguerite Miller of Lilbourn.

The first payment of state aid was made on September 7 and distributed as follows:

The extra money for Union Grove pays transportation and tuition of colored pupils to Champion.

33.9% of state aid was paid this time as compared to 25% last fall, or an increase of over 8%. If the payment next March is increased the same, the total yearly payment would be 78% but this may be hoping for too much. At least, we can feel sure of 70%. This payment was for revenue collected over a period of four months—March 1 to July 1. The payment next spring will turn over money collected for a period of eight months—July 1 to March 1.

Dema Parker, teacher of York upper grades, resigned and John Seifers of Matthews was elected to fill the vacancy. Miss Parker plans to finish her college work preparatory to teaching in high school.

E. Wayne Shannon of Mountain Grove was lately elected to Morehouse to succeed J. C. Slover who goes to Estherville, Iowa. Mr. Shannon has taught the past two years at Booneville. Mrs. C. W. Stevenson, formerly of Lilbourn but who lives at Cape Girardeau now, has been employed lately as teacher of the Crosno School in the Morehouse District. Louis A. Meyer is superintendent for the second term and other members of the Morehouse faculty are: Wilard Bagwell, Loudean Davis, Margaret Gallup, Alma Bremerman, W. F. Blaylock, Joe Lowe, Margaret Cain, Elizabeth Hoehn, Evelyn Moore, Nellie Reynolds.

Naidene Duckett, Martha Schuchart. School opened September 7.

The Board of Control of the New Madrid County High School Association (Athletic and Literary) met last Friday and elected Lynn M. Twitty of Kewanee as President to succeed J. Hugh May, L. L. Schuette of New Madrid as Vice-President to succeed Oren S. Liley, and Ralph McCullough of New Madrid was re-elected as Secretary.

The Schoolmasters' Club will hold the first meeting of the season at Portageville on the evening of October 5. As usual, they will feast on chicken and rehearse the jokes of the previous year. The delegates to the State Teachers' Association at Kansas City on November 11-14 will be J. H. O'Connor, L. G. Wilson, Ralph McCullough, L. B. Hoy, Milus R. Davis, D. S. Revelle, Lynn M. Twitty, and Louis A. Meyer. The Cape Girardeau meeting will come October 22-23 and the delegates selected include the first four names above and J. W. Huckstep, H. W. Lueddecke, and Neil C. Aslin.

A FATHER AT 101

London, Sept. 15.—After living 103 years in the bosom of a Norfolkshire village, George Skeet soared into worldwide fame today as the father of a two-year-old daughter and a five-year-old son. The children have two half-brothers, one 69 and the other 60. Skeet, a residence of Burnham Market, was married for sixty-three years to his first wife. Twelve years ago he married a 17-year-old girl, but it was not until five years ago that their first child was born. Then, at the age of 101, he became a father two years ago.

MONEY CHANGER USED BY STILL ATTENDANT TO SPEED SALES AT STILL

The first negro alleged bootlegger arrested since federal agents from Poplar Bluff started their "drying up" campaign in Southeast Missouri 13 months ago was taken in a raid on a still seven miles east of Hornersville early Sunday morning.

The negro, Ben Hawthorn, 65, and John Seifers, 56, were taken into custody and readily admit officers say, their part in the operation of a 150-gallon still, they said belonged to Fred Powers. Powers is out on bond at the present time on a previous bootlegging charge. Federal agents said all three men will be charged with conspiracy. Powers was not at the still at the time of the raid and has not been taken into custody on the conspiracy charge. Eight hundred and fifty gallons of mash in 17 barrels was confiscated at the still and destroyed. "Uncle Ben", as he is called, and who is the father of 13 children, said he served as "delivery boy" for the moonshiners. He hauled sugar to the still and delivered the finished product in a wagon to the consumers. He said he received one-half gallon of whisky for every load he delivered.

A small shed situated near the still was used as the "retail outlet" for the business. Seifers was arrested at the shed. Agents said he wore a money changer similar to the type worn by street car conductors on his belt. "Business was so good he needed to make change fast," agents said.

Hawthorn told officers that they sold about 175 gallons of whisky a week and received $2 for each gallon.

Seifers and Hawthorn were arraigned before United States Commissioner Arno Ponder Sunday and pleaded guilty. They are held in the Butler county jail for failure to make bonds of $1,500 each. Liquor control operators have arrested eight alleged bootleggers and captured five stills in the last five days. The still taken Sunday by agents from Poplar Bluff was the 114th confiscated in the last 13 months.—Poplar Bluff Daily American Republic.

AAA MEETINGS ON PROGRAM FOR 1937

Washington, Sept. 15.—The AAA announced a series of "community meetings" yesterday to shape the 1937 soil-conservation program.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said the program should aim at checking soil erosion, improving soil fertility, encouraging better land use and maintaining farm income.

Among "questions to be discussed" at the meetings are crop insurance and possible limitations on benefit payments for each farm.

Wallace has advocated a Federal crop insurance plan recently and the limitation of Federal payments was suggested to Congress, where complaints were heard that large corporations and big landholders had been paid thousands of dollars by the AAA.

The AAA said the "community sessions" would be followed by meetings of county committees and state and regional leaders, so that a "definite program may be ready for farmers by the first of the year."

Drought conditions will be considered in plans for the 1937 program, leaders said. A weather survey said the Great Lakes region and Mississippi and Ohio River valleys had been helped by rains during the first 10 days of September. Partial relief also was reported for the great plains, with good rains in Kansas, extreme Western Oklahoma and Northwestern Texas.

Fall farm operations, plowing and seeding as well as pastures and late forage crops have been helped, it was said.

An estimate by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics said crop yields for the entire country this year were reduced "20 to 25 per cent of what would have been produced had usual weather conditions prevailed."

Farmer community meetings in 10 corn belt states of the North Central regions were announced for the week of Sept. 21. The 10 states are Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

NEW MINISTER FOR CHURCH AT CHAFFEE

The Rev. S. E. Tesh of Piggott, Ark., has been selected pastor of the Chaffee Christian church. He succeeds the Rev. E. W. Ligon, pastor for five years, who resigned Sunday to enroll at the Johnson Bible College in Knoxville, Tenn.

Mr. Tesh has been a minister since 1931. He and his wife and two children will move to Chaffee about October 11.

RECOVERY NOTES

(Compiled by Dwight H. Brown, Secretary of State.)

The New York Stock Exchange reports an increase of about 550 million dollars in the market value of its listed bonds during August. On September 1, the market value of 1,400 issues was $42,235,760,556.

Eight and a half million workers have found private or government jobs since the low point of the depression in March 1933, according to Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor. Payrolls have increased $42,000,000 weekly during the period.

Bank clearings for the week ending September 2 totaled $5,842,270,000, according to Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. This was a gain of 77.1 per cent over the like week of last year, during which clearings totaled $4,261,026,000.

Electric power production for the week ending August 29 reached 2,135,598,000 kilowatt hours, the highest ever recorded, says the Edison Electric Institute. A year ago production was but 1,569,716,000 kilowatt hours, or 18 per cent less than the last August week.

Loadings of revenue freight for the week ending August 29 totaled 753,742 cars, the Association of American Railroads announces. This was an increase of 72,894 cars or 10.7 per cent, compared with the corresponding week of last year.

Engineering construction awards during August totaled $192,317,000 according to Engineering-News Record. In August, 1935 awards totaled $158,057,000.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company reports an increase of 68,000 telephones in service in the Bell System during August. In the same month last year an increase of 27,200 stations was reported.

Shipments of hosiery during July totaled 9,321,587 dozen pairs, up 5.4 per cent over June and 36.7 per cent over July 1935, according to the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers.

Furniture manufacturing orders this year have shown an indicated gain of 34 per cent over last year, the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, Inc., reports, and the industry's unfilled order book is now the "largest in some time."

After a busy summer the machinery industry faces the remainder of the year optimistically, the American Machinist reports in an industrial review. The trade journal noted there was shortage of qualified men for building machinery. It also said the industry anticipated a substantial volume of foreign orders for machinery tools.

The National Association of Purchasing Agents predicts a 20 per cent increase in general business by the end of the year. Business in every line is vastly improving, the report states.

Business is better on Missouri railroads. Passenger revenue on the Frisco for the first six months of the present year showed an increase of 25.8 per cent while freight revenue gained 19.3 per cent. Gross earnings of the Kansas City Southern Railway for August totaled $1,246,000, an increase of 40 per cent over August 1935.

been seen or heard of since. The passage of the mine is blocked at the present time by a cave-in. Whether it is of recent origin can't be said.

"Today, near Eden's Bluff, will be found an old man living in a shack under the cliff. He spends all of his spare time honeycombing the hillside with shafts and passages. Ordinarily he is the very personification of friendliness. In the summer he sells lukewarm soda. He rents an old waterlogged box, which he in turn rents to a boat and hires himself out as a guide, and he makes a good one. But there is one thing he will not do. He will not talk about why he is digging in the mountain. When anything remotely pertaining to it is mentioned, he shuts up like a clam.

"The next incident in this chain of events happened about 1928. An article in a local newspaper described it somewhat as follows: 'A man from Oklahoma was told by an old Indian that his (the Indian's) father had been forced, with other Indians, to hide a treasure, consisting of gold bullion and many valuable church ornaments, in a cave in what is now known as the notorious Bear Hollow in Northwest Arkansas and Southwest Missouri. After this was cashed in a small natural room of the cave, the Indians were made to help build a dam across an underground stream, which flowed through the cave. In the center of the dam, the Spaniards built a wooden bulkhead which they plugged up with an enormous screw, fashioned from a cedar log. Outside the cave they branded a young sapling with the imprint of seven mule shoes and left a number of other signs. Then the Spaniards began to massacre the Indians, but in the melee the father of the Oklahoma Indian escaped.

"The man to whom this was told went to Northwest Arkansas, interested several local men who knew the territory, and they found the cave. But when they attempted to unscrew the plug, the end of which protruded above the surface of the artificial lake, the log twisted off near the base, leaving the bulkhead plugged and the passage blocked by a lake of water which rose to the low ceiling.

"Whether the present owners of the cave are making any headway at retrieving the treasure is not known, but it was said that because of the drought the lake was so low they had hopes of pumping out enough water that they might get at the bulkhead with an ax. But it is obvious that they have not acquired any great wealth since summer.

"Another link in the chain was added in 1932. This particular link was unearthed by a razorback hog on a farm between Bentonville and the little town of Hiwassee. One day as the pig's owner was slopping his porker he noticed a perfectly shaped rectangular slab of white rock lying in the mire by the trough. When cleaned, it proved to be a block of marble like that used in fine buildings and memorials. It was as out of place in the pen of razorback hogs as a snowball in the desert. After the mud and slime were rubbed off, it could be seen that a crucifix was engraved in each corner, and as the polishing continued the faint outline of a circle began to take shape on one surface. It soon became apparent that it was the outline of

Spanish Treasure May Be In Arkansas Hills

Often speculation arises as to what there is in the Ozarks besides rocks and corn liquor. The most obvious answer is simple—just more rocks. But there is a legend prevalent among the hill people of Arkansas that a Spanish treasure of fabulous value is hidden somewhere in the northwest corner of the state. Most of those who hear the story are inclined to scoff at the idea, but occasionally something happens which makes it appear the tale may be more than mere fiction. Several investigators have had doubt so completely erased from their minds that they have turned treasure hunters and have spent their last dimes in pursuit of the pot of Spanish gold said to lie somewhere deep in the hills.

The first inkling that the people of Benton county, Arkansas, had of the existence of the treasure was late in the nineteenth century. About 1890, two dark men who spoke poor English, it is reported, spent a few days inquiring about certain permanent landmarks in the vicinity. When natives attempted to find what their business was, all they could get out of the strangers was that some of the ancestors of the visitors formerly had had a settlement near what is now Rogers. Having made their inquiries, the mysterious strangers dropped out of sight, but turned up a few weeks later with a wagon load of big boxes which they shipped out of the country. To this day no one in the vicinity knows who the men were or what they took away with them, and thus might end the story of the treasure before it hardly is begun.

But nearly thirty years later something else happened which might have a bearing on the tale. It is told by a Bentonville resident. About 1924, some high school boys and girls, of whom he was one, went on a picnic at Eden's Bluff on the White river near Monte Ne, a little resort south of Rogers. He relates:

"Just as we pulled in under the brow of the cliff, nearly everyone in the back of the truck barely escaped being annihilated by a fall of rocks, and gravel which seemed to pour out of the sky. After cowering on our knees above a hole in the face of the cliff with a crude wooden platform built in front of it, like a perch on a bird box. A man appeared and without looking below inverted a wheelbarrow full of rocks, practically over our heads.

"After that, we hastily departed to a safer spot. Then I, with another boy who had designs on an eagle's nest which could be seen above the spot on the face of the cliff, proceeded to hunt out the trail up to the cave and went up to find out what it was all about.

RISE prices on dairy products should not be permitted to cut down the average family's consumption of milk, cheese and butter as these foods are particularly valuable for health. Evaporated milk is economical for cooking purposes and is equally as wholesome as fresh milk. If necessary to cut down, a substitute may be used for butter.

In general, prices on most foods are no higher than last week and a slight decrease has been noted in beef and lamb chucks, young chickens, eggs, apples, green beans, lima beans, cabbage and new potatoes.

Here are three menus planned for different budget levels.

Misses Louise Williams and Evelyn Lee and Mr. Albert Kirkpatrick of this city and Mr. Claude Kirkpatrick of Wickliff, Ky., were visitors in Paducah, Ky., on Sunday.

Mrs. William King, after a few days visit with her mother, Mrs. Frank Russell, and Mr. Russell, returned Tuesday morning to her home in St. Louis, Mo.

Paul Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Davis, was taken to Cairo, Ill., Sunday, where he was treated for fractured knee, and same was put in a cast.

Homier Rowe has been a patient in Barnes hospital in St. Louis for the past week. He will undergo an operation before returning home.

Lindsay Ringo, who is a patient in Baptist Memorial hospital at Memphis, Tenn., is reported to be recovering. While still very weak, his condition shows improvement.

Mrs. E. L. Brown, who has been a patient at St. Mary's Infirmary in Cairo, Ill., since she suffered a fall several weeks ago, is reported to be improving.

Relatives in this city have received news that Mrs. W. F. Sternberg of Piper City, Ill. (nee Ina Forbey of this city), has been critically ill at her home during the past week and will be removed to a hospital in Chicago, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Love and little son, Eddie, who have been guests of the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Love, returned on Saturday to their home in Fulton, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfie Brown were visitors in Cairo, Ill., on Monday afternoon.

Dale Fulton of Sikeston was a business visitor in this city on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Moffat Latimer, Mrs. Frank Stotts, and Mr. Leonard Howlett attended the meeting of Potosi Presbytery of the Southern Presbyterian Church, which was held Tuesday evening at the First Presbyterian Church in Sikeston, Mo. Mr. Howlett went as a delegate from the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Charleston, Mo. Mr. Latimer was the guest soloist for the service and was accompanied by Mrs. Latimer.

Postmaster Wert Gwaltney and all the employees of the Charleston Post Office and their families enjoyed a Fish Fry and picnic supper on Wednesday evening at Bennett's Place in the Dorena District.

Miss Mary Reid Stotts, a student at the Southeast Missouri State Teachers' College at Cape Girardeau, Mo., spent the week end at her home in this city.

The pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Ford at Concord was the scene of a most enjoyable meeting of the Past Noble Grand Chapter on Monday evening when Mrs. Ford and Mrs. W. C. Brewer of this city entertained the Chapter.

Twenty-two members and one guest, Mrs. B. B. Guthrie, were in attendance and enjoyed a very bountiful lunch served at six p. m. Mrs. Ford served barbecued goat and each of the other members brought a dish, hence an abundance of good eats. The table from which the lunch was served cafeteria style was decorated with lovely garden flowers.

Mrs. Wert Gwaltney, the President, held a business session following the lunch and during this session a communication was read from the District President of Rebekah Lodges, Mrs. Gladys Cummings requesting the members of the Chapter to attend the District Meeting, which will be held at East Prairie, Mo., Oct. 24th, 1936, and to take part on the program.

Following the business session a social hour was held and the members enjoyed contests and games. Mesdames B. B. Guthrie, Hattie Wright, and Edna Crenshaw were awarded prizes. Among those present were Mesdames C. C. Courtway and Hubert Morris of Poplar Bluff, who are members of the Chapter.

Mrs. E. L. Gross (nee Annabel Little), niece of Mrs. J. J. Russell of Charleston, Mo., passed away Wednesday, Sept. 16th, at 3:30 p. m. at her home in Nashville, Tenn., following a lingering illness due to cancer of the stomach.

Mrs. Gross was well known in Southeast Missouri. She was a frequent visitor at the home of Mrs. Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grider of Deventer, Mo., were visitors in this city Wednesday.

The Woman's Council of the Christian Church enjoyed a party on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. J. Russell.

St. Mrs. Joe Howlett presided over the meeting and held a brief business session. During the social the members exchanged parcels, which were numbered and each bore a contest slip "Questions concerning the State". The contest created much merriment and the parcels exchanged realized a neat sum for the church. Refreshments of cake and punch were served by Mesdames Walter Beck and Uriel

Myers. Following the serving of the refreshments Mrs. O. W. Jocky, with a few well chosen words, presented the president, Mrs. Howlett, with a large birthday cake, bearing eight burning pink tapers in keeping with the eight years she has served as president of the council, and in celebration of her birth anniversary, which occurred on Monday.

As Mrs. Joslyn finished speaking, the eighteen members present joined in singing "Happy Birthday to You". Mrs. Howlett responded, expressing her appreciation of the remembrance and the co-operation she had received from the membership.

METHODIST SOCIETIES HOLD ZONE MEETING

Members from Sikeston attended a Scott county zone meeting of the Methodist Women's Missionary Society held at Benton Sept. 12. The morning program was in charge of Mrs. R. H. Daugherty of Cape Girardeau and included a welcome address by Mrs. Stephen Barton, president of the Benton society. A luncheon was served at noon by the local members, and the afternoon program was in charge of Mrs. George Arnold of Farnett, Zone chairman. Mrs. J. E. Matthews was appointed secretary for the day, and in an afternoon business session, Mrs.

George Arnold was re-appointed zone chairman, and Mrs. C. E. Felker, zone secretary.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

"Yes," says Towser humbly, "my master is a great fisherman." Outdoor silhouettes like this are made with sun in front, lens shaded, fast shutter speed (at least 1/100 second) and small stop (at least f.16.)

TIME and again novices forget the old rule that says that you should have the sun over your shoulder when you take pictures, and suffer the penalty of a sun-struck negative. They see something "pretty" and excitedly shoot at it regardless of the fact that Old Sol may be glaring directly into the eye of the camera.

It's a good rule not to forget, but it does not mean that pictures can never be taken with the sun in front of the lens. Indeed, considering the number of sun-in-front pictures that are being hung in salons these days as examples of artistic achievement in photography, it would seem as if the rule is being broken oftener than it is observed.

But, before you try for such pictures deliberately, be sure you have acquired good judgment in the use of stop openings and shutter speeds, because light and shadow conditions with the sun in front are decidedly different from those when the sun is behind you.

In all such pictures it is absolutely essential that the camera lens be shielded from the direct rays of the sun, else "lens flare" on the negative is sure to result. This can be done with a hat or other object or by jockeying around for a position in which a tree or other lofty screen places the sun in eclipse. Or you may add a lens hood to your camera accessories.

Some of the most artistic sun-in-front pictures are made with the sun's rays striking the subject slightly from behind, that is, coming from the right-hand or left-hand side, but strikingly beautiful effects may be achieved with the sun almost directly in front. The resulting "high backlighting" seems to surround the subject with a glamorous radiance. Often, sunlight striking the blowing hair of a child or girl from behind gives a lovely halo-like effect.

Remember when you prepare your camera for the picture that, with most of the light behind the subject, features of faces and the identifying details of whatever the subject may be, will be mostly in shadow, and often deep shadow. Consequently a large stop opening and longer exposure will usually be needed.

It is by shooting with the sun (or brightest part of sky) in front of the lens that outdoor silhouettes are made. These pictures can be of fascinating interest and perhaps are less difficult to take than those in which you need detail in the shadow parts. The sun need not be shining brilliantly. Use a fairly small stop opening for clear-cut outlines and elimination of detail on the side of the subject toward the camera; then make a snapshot exposure. Let your subjects be outlined against the sky on a ridge, a hill or sand dune, with the sun or strong light behind them, or have them between you and the sun on the veranda of your home or hotel. Be absolutely certain before you click your shutter that the sun's rays are masked from the lens.

Mother and Baby

Very few people know that when a baby is born to a mother monkey the first thing after it's birth, and for weeks afterward, she tests her child by climbing from the trees with the babe holding to her, and if the baby once lets go and falls, the mother from then on will have nothing more to do with the baby.

she has just given little "Jimmy" the acid test.

Don Carlos' dog, pony and monkey hippodrome is but one of the many attractions, along with 13 new and novel riding devices to be brought here, for 4 days, starting Tuesday, Sept. 22, by the Hennies Bros. Shows, under the auspices of the Sikeston Baseball Club, on the ball park grounds.

Judge Barney Huering, of Ance, was a visitor in Sikeston Sunday.

AN EXCITING NIGHT
FOR WRESTLING FANS

Wrestling fans had one of their most exciting nights Tuesday. Early in the main event, Jack Johnson became so upset over Otto von Ludwig's treatment of Roy Welch that he rose up and with a cigarette dangling from his lips made ineffectual passes at the German. And later in the same match, someone grew so irate that twice he picked up Henry Welsh's folding chair and threatened Von Ludwig with it. Many in the crowd were fighting mad.

Everything turned out all right for the fans, for Welch took two of the three falls, winning the first in fourteen minutes with flying tackles and a body straddle and the third in eight minutes with a serious of body slams.

The match was one of the most active in months. Von Ludwig, without his whiskers, was scarcely recognizable until he began showing the unfair tactics for which he is well known here. Von Ludwig delighted particularly Tuesday night in throwing Welch from the ring. It was this trick that agitated Johnson and the chair wielder. During the first round, Von Ludwig once threw Welch out and then kept him from returning by kicking him. Welch managed to butt Von Ludwig with his head, however, and return to down him.

Welch can be mean, too. He got so tired of Von Ludwig's treatment that in the second fall he put his opponent's head between the ropes and then just after he'd got free, twisted the ropes around Von Ludwig's neck again and did the same thing for Mike Meroney.

Von Ludwig got Welch in this round, though, and immediately before the chair threatening episode, threw Welch from the ring again and jumped down to kick him. Ludwig won in eleven minutes with body slams and

"everything he could think of," as Meroney said.

Ludwig bit a lot, too, and he and Welch choked each other before the match ended. Welch exhausted the German in the last round with what Von Ludwig called "heart slaps," and Von Ludwig was pretty irritated with the crowd anyway, especially with comments of a promoter friend of Welch's from Paducah.

Rex Mobley won the preliminary after George Ligovsky had taken the first fall in eleven and a half minutes with a figure four leg scissors. Ligovsky began wrestling fairly, but soon abandoned this and pulled hair, gouged eyes, and choked a little. In the first fall Meroney made him break a Japanese leg lock for holding the ropes for support, and in the second, Mobley broke a crabhold and another figure four leg scissors.

Mobley took the second fall in nine minutes with flying tackles and a double jack knife and the third in six with a rolling rock, leg chair split. In the last round, Ligovsky wrestled Meroney briefly for trying to make him let loose of the ropes, and a second time held Meroney in front of him for protection from Mobley.

SUNSET OPENS FEAST OF JEWISH NEW YEAR

Memphis, Sept. 16.—Sunset tonight will usher in the most solemn season of the Jewish religious year, the Feast of Rosh Hashanah, or New Year. It is a day of good will and since it is the first day of the seventh month or the day of the new moon of that month, it is invested with a significance of far holier import than other new moon days of the year.

With the passing of the centuries, the New Year's Day has come to embody the great religious idea of divine justice and human responsibility. Services in orthodox synagogues, including

Baron Hirsch and Beth El Emeth, will be continued tomorrow and Friday. At Temple Children of Israel the services will be concluded tomorrow. The traditional trumpet blowing will take place in all temples and synagogues tomorrow.

Services at Temple Children of Israel, beginning at 8 o'clock tonight, will consist of a sermon, "Bon Voyage," by Dr. H. W. Ettelson and special ritual of the New Prayer Book, holiday volume. Herschel Banks, Jr., will assist. Dr. Ettelson's intent of the congregation; the metemorphosis of the morning will be "The World's Confusion and the Way Out." The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Sam Oppenheimer, will be augmented by violin, harp and cello, with the trumpet.

The service at Baron Hirsch Synagogue will begin at 6 o'clock tonight and will be chanted by a specially trained choir under direction of Cantor M. I. Levin. The first service tomorrow morning will be at 7 o'clock. Lee Faine will read the commencement and the first part will be chanted by M. Shimony, who will read the "Torah," or Law. The trumpet will be blown by the Rev. E. I. Segal.

Greetings by Sam Abraham, pressage, "Auditing Our Spiritual Accounts," by Rabbi Morris Taxon, and a musical program with Herbert Abramson, 12-year-old soloist, taking part will conclude the morning service. The night service will begin at 6 o'clock and will follow the same form as the previous night.

The second day's service will be similar to the first with Dave Dermon, vice president, extending greetings. Rabbi Taxon will give a message, using as the theme, "Duty, Incorporated." Regular Friday night services will be held, the concluding New Year's celebration being at noon Friday.

The Junior Baron Hirsch Congregation will hold separate serv-

FOUR KANSAS CITY BOYS
BACK HOME WITH ADVICE

"See America first, but don't work too hard at it." That is the advice of four Kansas City youths who went traveling this summer. After four days of pedaling up and down 199 miles of mountain highways on the Oregon coast, the boys were convinced they had worked too hard and that there were more idyllic methods of seeing the country.

School Ends, Trip Begins

The boys, who attempted a bicycle odyssey, were University of Kansas City students—John Chaney, president of this year's student council; Charles Myers, Jr., president of last year's council; Kenneth Spry, and Carl Balsiger returned to Kansas City last week after three months in the West. He reached home Tuesday.

Two days after commencement exercises in June the boys started out from Kansas City in a motor car loaded with groceries sufficient to last until they could reach Portland, Ore. The car was to be delivered to a motor car agency there.

Stopping at the homes of relatives "as long as the relatives lasted," the boys took the northern route through Yellowstone Park. Late one night they ran over a pheasant near Pinedale, Wyo., and there was our supper," as Chaney put it. Climbing out of the car, the boys prepared the pheasant for a midnight roasting over an open fire. The night tough meat rested on the stomachs of four boys sleeping in blankets under the cold stars of Wyoming.

With a half dozen flat tires behind them, the boys reached Portland on schedule and rented a three-room apartment. Immediately they hunted for jobs, and within two weeks all were working. Spry in a stationery shop, Myers in a bank, Balsiger and Chaney in grocery stores.

"We didn't have any 'pull,' either," according to Myers. "We just looked for jobs and found them."

For two months the youths worked steadily, saving their money for the trip home. They took turns cooking meals, washing dishes and clothes and keeping the rooms clean. Swimming and sun baths were their principal diversion.

Late in August the boys began to plan their trip home. Intending to go by way of Hollywood and Southern California points, the road to Kansas City seemed to be just one continuous trail sloping downward to home. Why not coast home on bicycles? On bicycles they could enjoy more of the scenery. On bicycles they could stop wherever and whenever they wanted. No worries about the amount of gasoline in the tank.

It was an entrancing vision and August 25 eight sturdy legs began pumping four new bicycles along the Pacific Coast highway, Hollywood bound.

Wherever the highway came close to the ocean the boys stopped for a swim, and thus made only eighteen miles the first day out of Portland. That night they slept in a hay loft.

The road began to look a little longer, and so the second day they speeded up, making seventy-two miles. By this time the muscles of their legs were beginning to give them trouble. It took a little longer to make the never-ending hills. The road seemed to curve always upward, instead of down. As their vigor diminished the number of miles traveled also diminished, and at the end of four days the youths had only gone as far as Winchester Bay, Ore., about 199 miles south of Portland.

There they lost a brief stop, selling the bicycles and buying bus tickets for the rest of the trip. They stopped for a day in Chinatown at San Francisco and visited movie studios in Hollywood. In a restaurant on the Paramount lot they met Betty Mary Smith and her father, Mayor Bryce B. Smith, also touring the studios on the way home from a summer vacation. Balsiger remained in Southern California with relatives while the other three took another bus for home, making a brief stop at the Texas Centennial in Dallas.

When they reached a Kansas City bus station, Chaney had 9 cents, Myers 30 cents—the fruits of their summer work in Portland had lasted just long enough. They had been in every state in the far West except Utah and Nevada, and they were enthusiastic about everything—except four days on bicycles.—The Kansas City Star.

COURT SAVES MAN AND
DUCK WITH HANGOVER

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 15.—The case of the drunken drake and the master who gave it beer came before Municipal Judge Thomas Foley today and the court ruled the strange pair must never get intoxicated together again.

Judge Foley dismissed a charge of intoxication against John L. Green, and gave him a 30-day suspended sentence on a charge of cruelty to animals.

The duck, named "Brother Crawford," was in court, apparently with a terrible hangover from drinking too much beer.

Dr. Harry Fremont, veterinarian of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, said he had given the duck a "sousemeter" test and found it in the last stages of intoxication.

"Brother Crawford likes beer," Green explained. "I was told water was not pure. Brother Crawford has a great career in Hollywood and I don't wish to ruin it with bad water."

Testimony showed Green and the duck had visited 12 saloons in one day.

TRI-COUNTY FAIR
AT CARUTHERSVILLE
OCTOBER 6-11, INC.

Beginning Tuesday morning and lasting through Sunday of the week of October 6, has been designated "Fair Dates" of the Tri-

County American Legion Fair at Caruthersville this year. No expense has been spared to make this the best fair in the history of the tri-counties, and while under the direct management of the American Legion for the past two years only, the Pemiscot County Fair is one of the oldest in this section of the state, being more than 20 years old. Those in direct charge now are well schooled in knowing what the public want in the way of entertainment and this experience enables them to bring to the tri-counties a fair that is seldom equaled by any except the very largest places.

This year there are several added feature events. Of course, Sol's Liberty Shows will be on the midway for the week's engagement. This is one of the largest carnival companies on the road today and they are almost home folks to all of us they have "wintered" here for the past three or four years. Their shows are clean, entertaining and refined, each year finding them growing and adding some sort of new entertainment to their list of shows and rides.

Another feature this year is the races, both harness and running. Caruthersville has always been noted as having one of the fastest half-mile tracks, and this year will see more than 200 of the finest and fastest turf stock in attendance. Pursees are generous and competition will be keen. This is real entertainment, so come and pick your winner.

Spicy and educational features by the dozens have been contracted for to be put on in front of the grandstand, and as usual the grandstand is free, one general admission ticket admitting you to the ground and stand. A new floodlighting system, using 90,000 candle-power, has been installed, giving you "daylight" in front of the grandstand at night. The prices this year will be 15 and 25c.

Make your arrangements now to attend the Tri-County Fair at Caruthersville . . . see the horse races see Sol's Liberty Shows, see the agricultural exhibits, see the latest farm equipment, see well, you can see them all at the Tri-County Fair at Caruthersville, October 6th to 11th, inclusive.

FIRST AUTUMN SNOW
FALLS IN MONTANA

Helena, Mont., Sept. 14.—The first snow this fall dampened Helena today.

The Weather Bureau said Helena had its first frost of the season this morning. It was described as "light, but enough to damage gardens."

It was the first snow here since June 2. Weather Bureau records show snow in July and August some years.

OUR 39th YEAR IN SOUTHEAST MISSOURI

CAMPAIGN NEWS

We are in just as dead earnest in pushing our fall campaign for more business as President Roosevelt and Governor Landon are in promoting theirs.

Facts are—nothing goes over these days unless those behind the gun are earnest, energetic and truthful.

I remember a five word text from Holy Writ which runs something like this; "Faith without works is dead".

In street language of today as applied to business those five words mean about this; MERE CLAIMS WITHOUT PROOF ARE PLAIN BUNK.

We ask those of you follow our newspaper and radio ads to apply that acid test to all of them.

I've been sending a good many messages to you through newspapers and over the air lately.

Those messages contained a good many claims of superiority and many promises relative to our Big Fall Campaign.

I don't know whether you remember them or not but I DO.

HERE'S MY POINT

Some may be saying to themselves; "Oh yes—the Lair Stores claim they are the best between St. Louis and Memphis and they're doing a lot of talking about their fall campaign for more business but that I want is PROOF." All right ladies—you are correct—and we're loaded for you with PROOF. Here's some of it;

Choice of 75 of the neatest little boudoir lamps you have seen anywhere, many of them in Maple—$1.25.

75 late style sofa pillows, large variety of colors, all filled with genuine Kapok—add much to appearances of any room—$1.00 and $1.50.

Big stack of small rugs, axminsters, chenille, rag—a 45 inch rag rug as low as 35c.

Cane seat chairs—favorites for kitchens and homes that must have low priced chairs—75c each.

Dozens and dozens of beautiful mirrors—many in popular circle type—some of the latter as low as $1.95. You have not seen so many beautiful mirrors before in S. E. Missouri.

Fair quality—pretty patterns—felt base rugs—9x12 size $4.95.

Also genuine Gold Seals—9x12 for $7.95.

Waverly Axminsters—prettiest ever—very late style—many without borders—9x12 sizes look like $50.00 rugs and wear that way—our price $32.50. By all means see our rug stock.

The Best $49.50 Cast Range in S. E. Missouri—bar none—is here. It's a St. Clair and a real range through and through.

A circulator heater—also made by St. Clair for $42.50 is also an extreme value. We could go on for pages—

There's General Electric Radios—Zenith Radios—A. B. C. Washers—Frigidaire beautiful bedroom outfits—Sealy mattresses and so on.

If the above is not PROOF of our claims then I don't know what that word means. Put in a little gas if you live at a distance and pay us a visit—You'll probably be well paid for it.

GLEN PLAIDS, IF YOU PREFER

Tailored by Hart Schaffner & Marx

Don't be afraid of color in your wardrobe this fall. Well-dressed men everywhere have accepted color . . . and plaids particularly, as one of the most important developments of the season. The plaids (actually District Checks . . . if you want to be particular) however, do not all come in those that are so typical of the clan or Urquhart. There are small and subdued checks for men of more conservative taste as well as broken and indefinite patterns . . . still District Checks, nevertheless . . . for men who prefer this type of color in their wardrobe. And if you really want color that's color . . . well, we've plenty of bold Glenurquharts to suit your flare for pattern. Especially significant values when you realize that every suit carries the famous Hart Schaffner & Marx label.

The A B C of Crochet

*** **

Crochet is an art centuries old. Yet today it is one of the few creative arts which no machine can accurately reproduce. It affords you countless chances for individuality, for smartness, and for economy. Any reader wishing complete copies of these 12 articles can get them by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to this newspaper, or to its Crochet Bureau, 522 Fifth Avenue, N. Y. Specify "The A B C of Crochet."

VIII—Popcorn Stitch

MAKE 1 chain stitch, make 5 double crochet in the next stitch, remove hook from loop, insert hook back in the chain stitch first made, insert hook through the dropped loop, and draw this loop through the stitch on hook.

For bedspreads the popcorn stitch gives a beautiful effect.

You will want to decorate your home with a spread like this. An illustrated sheet of detailed directions will be sent you without charge, if you send a self-addressed return envelope bearing a three-cent stamp to THE CROCHET BUREAU OF THIS NEWSPAPER, 522 Fifth Avenue, NEW YORK CITY. Specify, "The A B C of Crochet, Design No. 8."

"As Washington was attacked, so was Jefferson. And so in turn were Jackson, Lincoln, Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson.

"It is significant that the abler the President, the more virulent the attack. It is significant, too, that in every instance the attack failed.

"The truth is and ever has been that no individual worthy of the office of President would seek to weaken or destroy the Constitution."

BABSON SAYS TURNING POINT IS THIS WEEK

Salem, Mass., Sept. 14.—Roger Babson, president of Babson Institute Wellesley on a visit to the third annual exhibit of early American industries today predicted that "this week will mark the turning point in the depression."

Babson said the current election could not possibly affect business trends.

"Conditions make Presidents, and Presidents do not make conditions," he said.

WILL ATTEND NAT. CON. OF AMERICAN LEGION

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson expect to leave Saturday morning for Marion, Ohio, to visit the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Johnson, and to attend the National American Legion convention at Cleveland, Ohio, which will be in session from Sept. 19 to Sept. 24 inclusive. Others from Sikeston who may attend the convention are, Brown Jewell, Grady Davis and Nick Kindred.

LEGION AUXILIARY INSTALLS OFFICERS

The American Legion Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Loomis Mayfield Monday night at which time these new officers were installed into office by Mrs. Harry Dudley.

President, Mrs. Ben Welter; first vice-president, Mrs. C. C. Cummins; second vice-president, Mrs. Loomis Mayfield; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Carlos Hicks; corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. L. Lawrence; historian, Mrs. Uri Rabb; chaplain, Mrs. Tanner C. Dye; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. George Lufey.

SEMO'S OWN POPCORN IS SOLD AT MALONE'S

People who buy Malone's drug store popcorn will get a genuine Southeast Missouri product.

On Wednesday, Lyle Malone bought from a farmer of near Charleston 2755 pounds of hand-sorted popcorn, more than a ton, which he will sell direct to his customers. At the same time he ordered a half-ton of special seasoning from a St. Louis company. Popcorn devotees are invited to try the mixture.

Fined for Being Drunk

Ed Harrington of Lilbourn was fined $8 in police court Wednesday when he pled guilty to being drunk. Harrington was arrested Tuesday night by W. M. Carson.

ARKANSAN DEVELOPS THIN SKINNED PEACH

Jonesboro, Ark., Sept. 16.—A thin-skinned peach has been developed by W. A. Williams, Craighead County farmer. The flavor, seed and meat of the fruit is similar to that of an ordinary peach, while the skin is like that of an apple. County Agent A. Raybon Sullivan said it was excellent for canning and drying.

Williams now has five trees bearing the fruit. The original tree, which came from an undetermined stock, is eight years old.

MONAN'S ALLEGED KILLER BOUND TO CIRCUIT COURT

Tommy Brigrance was bound over to the next term of the Pemiscot county circuit court Monday after a preliminary hearing in Caruthersville on a charge of killing Bill Monan, a former Sikeston resident, at his night club near Caruthersville September 5.

Justice J. D. Huffman did not grant defense attorneys' request that he be released on bond on the plea that he killed Monan in self defense but ordered him held in jail.

Brigrance was represented by Elmer Peal and S. J. Corbett.

IMPROVEMENT IN CROPS REPORTED IN MISSOURI

Columbia, Sept. 16.—A slight improvement in crops over much of the state was shown today following rains of last week, E. A. Logan, state agricultural statistician, reported.

Pasture condition was 12 per cent of normal as compared to 8 per cent the week before, but the report added that 278,000 farmers still are feeding grain rations to livestock. Alfalfa made the best gain, the report said, with most improvement shown in northwestern, eastern and southeastern counties.

UTILITY EMPLOYEES GET $3,000,000 RAISE

Newark, N. J., Sept. 15.—Directors of the Public Service Corporation voted today to grant a 10 per cent pay increase to some 20,000 employees.

The corporation said the increase would make a difference of about $3,000,000 a year in pay rolls.

It represents abolition of the last pay cut imposed by the utilities corporation during the depression. Electric, gas, street railway and bus line employees in most of the state are affected.

$11,035 for Sikeston Schools

A fall apportionment of $11,035.39 representing state aid funds for schools of the Sikeston district arrived here Thursday, R. E. Bailey, secretary of the board of education, announced. The allotment is about $3200 higher than that of September, 1935, he said.

A theft case against Willie Hibler, a negro, was dismissed in Judge Joseph W. Myers' court Thursday. Costs were assessed against George Ellerbrook, the prosecuting witness, who charged Hibler with stealing money from a pocket in the door of Ellerbrook's car.

Hearings for Elmer Oliver and R. E. Bryant, who charged each other with reckless driving after a collision here Saturday, were continued in Judge William S. Smith's court, until October 8. A hearing for Robert Dickson, a cab driver accused of reckless driving, is set for October 3.

Negro Hurt in Fall at Jail

Lynn Johnson, a negro, suffered a broken collar bone late Wednesday when he fell down a flight of stairs in the county jail at Benton. Johnson and Willie Hill, also a negro, were arrested here recently by Constable W. O. Ellis on a charge of stealing two chickens from a resident of Sunset addition. Johnson was taken to a Cape Girardeau hospital in the Welsh ambulance.

INVITED TO CHAFFEE

Sikeston ladies who are interested in Parent-Teachers Association work, are invited to attend a luncheon at Chaffee Friday, at 1 o'clock, in the Hotel there. The Scott county council of the P-T-A. is sponsoring the luncheon and a school for officers will be held in connection with it. Mrs. R. L. Harrison of Benton is president of the council.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was given Wednesday night by Dr. and Mrs. T. C. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Swacker and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Keller at the McClure home on Park avenue, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Trowbridge, who recently lost their clothing and furniture in a fire.

Orville Lumsden, who is attending Teachers' college at Cape Girardeau this winter, on leave of absence from the Missouri State Highway Dept. spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Lumsden.

HALF OF ILLINOIS' CORN CROP SAFE FROM FROST

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 14.—Indications that at least half of the Illinois corn crop is safe from frost damage as generally warm weather hastened maturity were reported today by the State and Federal Agricultural Departments in their joint weekly report.

By the end of another week, about 72 per cent of the crop will be advanced beyond the stage where frost might cause some damage, the report said.

MOTHER CAT ADOPTS LITTER OF POLE CATS

Bethany, Mo., Sept. 14.—A mother cat, deprived of her litter by her owners who live on a farm northeast of here has adopted a family of orphaned pole cats. Owners of the cat refrained from interfering with her care of the litter.

Woodring Cities Presidents Who Attacked Constitution

Brooklyn, Sept. 14.—Harry F. Woodring, acting Secretary of War, told a Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting last night that "scarcely a presidential election passes without some ardent orator proclaiming that the Constitution is endangered."

George Washington, Woodring said, was charged with violation of the Constitution's letter and spirit, and—
